FINANCES OF OAK BAY IN FINE SHAPE

Treasurer's Report to Council Shows Increase in Municipal Receipts

Council Has Used But 68 Per Cent of Estimated Expenditures

Oak Bay finances are in particularly good shape, it was shown in the report of Treasurer R. F. Blandy, for the first nine months of the year, presented to the council last night.

Receipts have passed all expectations, it was found, totaling $234,350 for the nine months. This is within $17,000 of the estimated receipts for the whole year and during the next three months it is expected at least $25,000 will flow into the municipal coffers. This is based on receipts for those months in 1925 and 1926.

Disbursements and the accounts payable by the municipality make a total of only sixty-eight per cent of the estimated expenditures for the year, and there is every indication that the total estimates will not be attained.

The municipality has now $110,892 as cash on hand; this compares favorably with the sum of $95,363 at the same time in 1926.

Items bringing in money for the municipality which have exceeded estimates for the year are as follows: Current taxes, arrears of taxes, delinquent taxes, tax sale receipts, horse racing permit, motor license grant and electric light rates. Sewer, water and electrical extensions have exceeded expenditure appropriations, reflecting a pronounced increase in building construction.

MORE LIGHT SHED ON HOAX CHANNEL SWIM

Commander L. S. M. Adam Says He Forced Dr. Dorothy Logan to Confess

London, Oct. 21.—The London Daily Sketch quotes Lieut.-Commander L. S. M. Adam, a retired naval officer, who acted as pilot for Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan in her "hoax channel swim," as declaring she confessed to the fake only when he and another member of the party which conveyed her demanded that she do so. Dr. Logan claimed she had deliberately perpetrated the hoax in order to show the necessity of supervision of such swims.

Dr. Logan gravely compromised her honor by continuing to withhold facts about the swim, Commander Adam declared, and he therefore decided to make a full statement to the papers.

"As I found lies were being told to support her claim she had swum the English Channel, I decided to insist she make a full confession," he said.

PRIZE AWARD CONCEALED

Dr. Logan concealed from him the fact that she had accepted Baron Riddell's prize of £1,000 for the first English woman who broke the record held by Gertrude Ederle of New York, who swam the channel in fourteen hours and thirty-one minutes, Commander Adam claimed.

He also stated she had not told him she had signed a document stating she had made the swim in thirteen hours and ten minutes.

He learned the facts, he said, when he read stories about them in the newspapers. Then he and George Woodward, another member of the party which conveyed her, went to see Dr. Logan in London and demanded the lie about the swim be withdrawn.

DISLIKED SUSPICION

Commander Adam declared the fact that he and Woodward were under grave suspicion and threatened with serious consequences induced him to make to-day's statement.

Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan, in confessing she had not swum the English Channel, said that before she set out it was determined that if she perpetrated the hoax she would make public the full facts within a month after the swim. She started the swim October 10. Her trainer, Horace H. Carry, supporter her in her revelation.

The log kept on the convoying vessel showed that of the thirteen hours and ten minutes of the "swim," Dr. Logan had spent eight hours and fifty minutes aboard the vessel.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

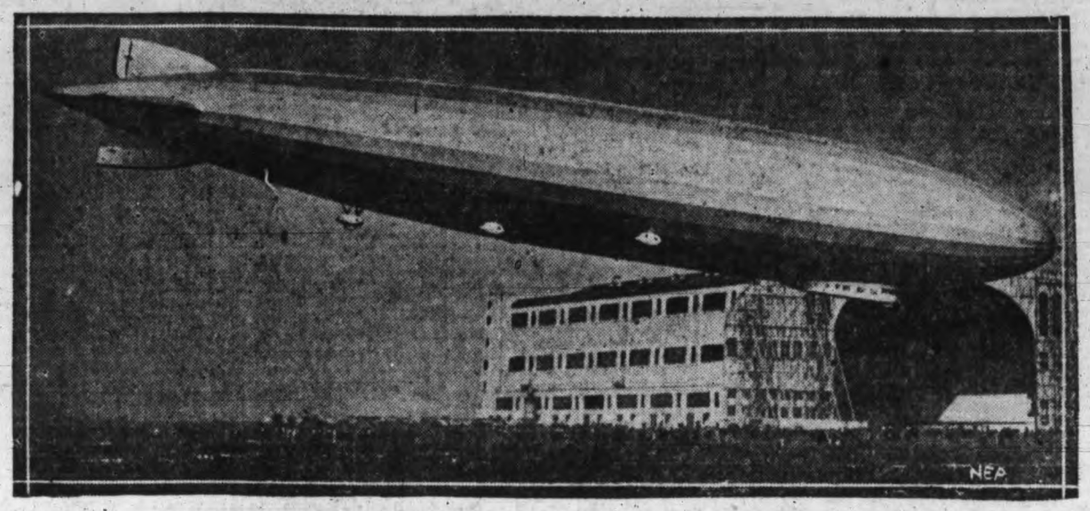

Nelson, Oct. 21.—Two more Nelson children were isolated with mild cases of infantile paralysis in the last twenty-four hours. This brought the Nelson cases to five, of which the first proved fatal about three weeks ago. A child from Sunshine Bay, with a mild attack, also was brought in last night.

Body of Vancouver Man is Discovered

Drowned near the paper mill dam on the Somass River, within a short distance of Port Alberni, the body of Harry Marshall was discovered yesterday afternoon by fishermen. The remains were discovered on the beach of Dead Man Island, Alberni Canal, opposite Port Alberni. There is no mistaking the identity of the body, although it has been exposed to the elements since May 15 last.

Provincial Police expect it will be shipped to Vancouver for burial.

INTERCHANGE OF CIVIC IDEAS BEFORE PARLEY

"Inter-municipal Relations" Subject of Address To-day By Mayor J. C. Pendray

Inter-municipal relations was the subject of an address by Mayor J. C. Pendray at the conference of Western Mayors, at the Empress Hotel this afternoon. His Worship said, in part:

"The study of inter-municipal relations began, no doubt, long before Caesar's day, only the relations then were somewhat strained and the study was carried along tactical lines of warfare. It is of the more peaceful type of relations that I would like to talk to you to-day.

"When you realize that between forty and fifty per cent of the population of the four Western Provinces live in urban centres or rural municipalities it can be clearly seen that municipal government is a matter of vital importance to the future of the West.

"The census in 1921 showed that the proportion living in organized municipalities in Alberta was 37.88 per cent; in Saskatchewan 28.90 per cent; in Manitoba 42.88 per cent; and in British Columbia Columbia 47.19 per cent. In the last six years more people have flocked to the cities, and to-day it is true that more people live under municipal government in Manitoba and British Columbia than in the unorganized communities. These people have their group needs administered by a mayor and council, a reeve and council, or by a board of commissioners. It is high time, therefore, that municipal governments took counsel together to find the best means of doing business, and of promoting the welfare of an united West.

"During the last ten years a great change has come over the commercial world. To-day we find merchants and manufacturers joined together in associations, clubs and guilds, holding regular gatherings in their own cities, and annual conventions on a common ground. National and international conferences are held to discuss their problems, and to discuss ways and means of improving conditions, and methods of doing business. These gatherings pool experiences on costs, advertising, and improved methods of operation, with a view to creating a larger demand for their respective products with the minimum outlay.

CO-OPERATION AND FAITH

"The survival of the fittest, as a business creed, has become obsolete, and instead a feeling of good fellowship has sprung up to take its place. Where once discord and destructive competition ruled, now there is a pooling of knowledge and a working alliance in its place. Co-operation and good faith have replaced jealousy and

TWO PACIFIC AIR ATTEMPTS PLANNED

Kingsford-Smith and Giles Crews Hope to Reach Australia From California

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The four Australians preparing for a Golden Gate-Australia flight will go ahead with the project despite withdrawal of financial support by Thoms R. Bavin, Premier of New South Wales.

In announcing they were determined to attempt the flight regardless of Bavin's plea that they abandon it because of the dangers, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith admitted the Premier's action might delay the start.

"Premier Bavin's cable means he will encounter financial difficulties we had not anticipated," said Kingsford-Smith. "However, we shall certainly fly to Australia despite his action."

The airmen hope to start from here November 3. They plan stops at Honolulu and other Pacific islands on the way.

GILES PLANS FLIGHT

Captain Frederick A. Giles, British aviator, to-day impatiently awaited arrival of his aeroplane from Elko, Nevada, where he crashed en route here for a Golden Gate-Australia hop. Giles arrived Wednesday by aeroplane.

WAR COSTS ARE TOO HEAVY A BURDEN, DECLARES CECIL

Ex-Cabinet Minister Tours Britain, Speaking in Favor of Disarmament

London, Oct. 21.—Viscount Cecil, who recently resigned from the Baldwin Cabinet in disagreement with its disarmament policy, to-day launcher a personal speaking campaign in the cause of disarmament, making the first of half-a-dozen addresses he will deliver before Christmas.

Speaking at a special meeting of the British League of Nations Union here, Viscount Cecil declared the object of his resignation from the Cabinet was to have greater freedom to press upon his fellow countrymen the urgency of disarmament, without which, he said, there could be no hope of enduring peace in Europe.

COST OF WAR

"Do not let us forget that out of every pound sterling of taxation we pay fourteen shillings are due to past years of preparations for future wars," he said. "This is a terrible burden, far greater than any other country in the world is bearing at present."

Viscount Cecil said Great Britain must reduce the cost of her fighting services, but added she could not do so to any great extent unless other countries did the same. He asserted Britain, with the possible exception of Russia, where accurate information was not available, was the only European country where expenditure for armaments was larger than before the World War.

British Seaplanes On Visit to Italy

WORLD WILL HONOR EDISON BY RADIO

Schenectady, N.Y., Oct. 21.—This is "Electric Night," October 21, and will be the occasion for a world-wide radio celebration of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the electric light.

Starting at 10 o'clock, eastern time (7 p.m. Victoria time), forty stations, including the two short-wave stations of the General Electric Company here, and several others in foreign countries will pick up and broadcast a programme sponsored by the General Electric Company to honor Edison.

It was forty-eight years ago that Edison struck upon a carbonized sewing thread for a filament in a vacuum bulb and made it glow continuously for the first time.

MISS GLEITZ FAILS TO SWIM CHANNEL

Cape Gris Nez, France, Oct. 21.—Mercedes Gleitz, London typist, who set out to-day to swim the English Channel a second time as a vindication of British women swimmers as a result of the hoax swim of Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan, abandoned her attempt after eleven hours in the water.

NEW DEVICE IS MADE TO END PLANE SPINS

F. Handley-Page Says it Removes Cause of Ninety Per Cent of Accidents

Cricklewood, Eng., Oct. 21.—After eight years of research, F. Handley-Page, noted aeroplane designer, has developed an automatic device which he claims will prevent planes from going into uncontrolled spins, the most fatal of all air hazards, which cause about ninety per cent of all aeroplane accidents.

In Mr. Handley-Page's opinion, the invention "is the biggest thing in aviation since those patents of the Wright brothers in the infancy of flying."

DEVICE TESTED

The device, which was tried out at the aerodrome here yesterday with complete success in the opinion of officials, consists of tiny curved surfaces or wings on the edge of the top plane. These tiny wings, while not operating, lie along the front of the main wing. If the plane stalls, the air pressure on the wings causes these front extension surfaces to move out automatically on metal projections, giving the necessary grip on the air and enabling the pilot to retain control of his machine.

$50,000 FIRE IN VANCOUVER TO-DAY

Factory of B.C. Hardwood Floor Company Scene of Outbreak This Morning

Small Apartment House Slightly Damaged Before Flames Subdued

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Damage estimated at more than $50,000 was caused by fire of unknown origin which broke out shortly before 7 a.m. to-day in the plant of the B.C. Hardwood Floor Company Limited at Eleventh Avenue and Granville Street here. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Flames were leaping high from the building and pouring from every window on the east side, while other windows were giving out clouds of smoke, when the firemen entered with numerous hose lines.

Gradually the fire fighters drove back the flames and the blaze was confined almost entirely to the upper floor of the building, which is of two stories.

FIREMEN MENACED

Several of the firemen suffered from the effects of smoke, but there were no major casualties. For a time some of the men who had entered with a hose line from a front window were cut off when the flames crept behind them. Comrades fought the blaze that menaced their fellows and subdued it.

At 8 a.m. the fire was under control.

APARTMENT HOUSE DAMAGED

A small neighboring apartment house was scorched by flames, but a vigorous fight by firemen prevented more serious damage. Some of the tenants carried their personal effects and furniture to the homes of neighbors.

A number of men are out of employment temporarily as the plant was particularly busy at this time.

OTTAWA MAKES READY TO EXTEND GREETING TO BIG U.S. AIRSHIP LOS ANGELES

Naval Dirigible, Carrying Sir Philip Sassoon, British Under-Secretary for Air and Officers With Him on Tour and Group of United States Officials Will Visit Capital of Canada October 29; Crew of 200 Men Being Trained to Moor Great Airship

Ottawa, Oct. 21—Following receipt of official information from Washington that the United States dirigible Los Angeles is to visit Ottawa October 29, arrangements have been made by the Department of National Defence for a party of 200 men to be on hand at the landing field to aid in bringing the great aircraft to earth. The landing party will be supervised by a member of the crew of the Los Angeles who will descend in a parachute while the airship hovens in the air over the field. Officials of the Canadian Air Force have the arrangements in hand for the provision of the landing party.

The dirigible is to take off from the field at Lakehurst, New Jersey, at 8 a.m. October 29 and arrive over Ottawa between 3 and 4 o'clock that afternoon. A stop of about one hour is to be made here.

OFFICIALS ON BOARD

Washington, Oct. 21—Crossing the international boundary for the first time, the United States dirigible Los Angeles will travel to Ottawa, Canada, October 29, according to tentative plans of the Navy Department, carrying as passengers Sir Philip Sassoon, British Under-Secretary for Air, the three Assistant Secretaries of United States Departments who are in charge of aeronautics and a party of British and United States officers. Sir Philip Sassoon is in the United States to inspect aviation units and equipment and expressed a desire to see the Los Angeles.

Accompanying the British Under-Secretary will be Wing Lieut. T. T. Hetherington and Flight Lieutentant A Jones-Williams of the British Air Force and Rear-Admiral William A. Moffatt, chief of the United States Bureau of Aeronautics. Assistant Secretary Warner of the United States Navy Department, Assistant-Secretary Maccracken of the Commerce Department and Assistant-Secretary Davison of the War Department will also make the trip.

The dirigible Los Angeles flew from Germany to the United States in October, 1924, when it was handed over to the United States Government.

Built in Germany for commercial use, the airship has comfortable, heated cabins with electric lights. Thirty passengers can be carried. There is hot and cold running water, sitting-rooms, kitchen and pantry, as well as compartments for mail and freight. The airship has a cruising radius of 2,000 miles.

SEARCH MADE FOR AIRMAN DE LESSEPS

Canada's First Pioneer Airman and Mechanic Missing in Eastern Quebec

Wing of Plane Found at Sandy Bay, Matane County, Is Identified

Quebec, Oct. 21.—A piece of aeroplane wing, eighteen feet long, found to-day on the shore of Sandy Bay, Matane County, in the eastern part of Quebec Province, has been positively identified as belonging to the plane occupied by Count de Lesseps and his Russian mechanic, Chinchinoff, who have been missing since Tuesday.

Count de Lesseps, son of the late Count Ferdinand De Lesseps, well known in connection with the building of the Suez Canal, left Gaspe in a hydroaeroplane with a Jupiter engine on Tuesday for Val Brillant, seventy-five miles away.

Count de Lesseps was accompanied by his mechanic, a Russian named Chinchinoff. Early reports stated his son had accompanied him, but this could not be confirmed to-day.

Sandy Bay is forty-five miles from Val Brillant.

SEARCH MADE

The first instructions issued to the Quebec forestry service division of the lower St. Lawrence were to search the forests around the Gaspe Peninsula in the hope the plane might have found a place to alight, as there are numerous lakes in that district.

Following the finding of the wing the signal service was asked to co-operate and a request was issued to all ships in the Gulf of St. Lawrence to maintain a close watch. Late yesterday hydroaeroplanes made a thorough search of both sides of the river.

HAD LIFE PRESERVERS

Count de Lesseps and his companion, it was reported, were equipped with life preservers and could have remained afloat several hours if forced down over water. There were many small boats without wireless in the region over which the fliers would have journeyed.

Count de Lesseps, who had been engaged in mapping operations for the Compagnie Franco-Arienne, had spent

WEST STOREHOUSE OF WEALTH, SAYS HON. A. M. MANSON

Compliments Prairie Provinces in Desire to Unite in Joint Drive With B.C.

Provincial Government Has Been Fully Alive to Transportation Problems

"This, the Jubilee anniversary year of Confederation, is a time for stock-taking and readjustment so that every part of our country will have fair treatment," stated Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General of British Columbia, in addressing the Western mayors at the city's banquet at the Empress Hotel last night.

"The records of 1864-1871 show that British Columbia was considered then as a sea of mountains. Only the fringe of the prairies on the immediate borderline of the United States was of any use, and it was frozen solid for most of the year and doubtful. British Columbia in fact was considered a financial burden of no mean proportions, and the railway that was to bind the country together a burden such as could not be supported," continued the speaker.

"When the Confederation was in process of formation that was the knowledge of the West that was held by those in authority, and under those conditions it would have been impossible for them to have visualized the West as the storehouse of wealth for the country, such as it has become. This, I say, is a fitting time for stock-taking, and the readjustment of inequalities that have prevailed since the early days, so that every part of our country may have fair treatment.

TIME FOR FAIR PLAY

"Here in British Columbia we have carried on a fight for more equitable transportation rates. National railway systems must be run on a truly national basis. The time has come for fair play and no discrimination. We asked for reductions in the rail rates, believing that those reductions would also build up the business of the railroads. The reductions have meant enormous increases to the railways, and have effected a saving of $15,270,000 to prairie shippers.

OTTAWA BAPTISTS TO DECIDE COURSE

Vote on Modernism to Be Taken at Mass Meeting

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Machinery for the holding of a mass meeting of Ottawa Baptists to thresh out the controversy in the church between the Modernists and Fundamentalists has been set in motion by Rev. James Hall, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church here. On his return from Toronto, where he attended the recent annual convention of the Baptist Union of Ontario and Quebec, Mr. Hall said he was prepared to ask his congregation to sever connections with the "old wing" and affiliate with the newly-formed union of Ontario Baptists of Ontario and Quebec, composed of those who support the views of Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto.

The mass meeting to settle the controversy as far as the Baptists of Ottawa were concerned would be held on November 7, Rev. Hall said.

Prices of Stocks Sag at New York

Decline To-day Indicates Correction of Technical Position of Market

New York, Oct. 21.—Stock prices broke wide open in the last few minutes of trading on the exchange here to-day.

Houston Oil dropped from $167.25 to $151 and dozens of other issues, including General Motors, United States Steel and Lehigh Valley, American Telephone and Telegraph and Timken sold three to ten points down. So great was the accumulation of selling orders that the final quotations were not printed on the tape until twenty-two minutes after the market had closed.

The decline was construed as a continuation of the gradual recession which set in early in the week as a correction of the market's technical position. The unexpectedly large increase of $40,000,000 in brokers' loans to the highest figures of all time undoubtedly was a powerful factor in unsettling and ultimately depressing prices.

VERDICT SOON IN BIG SEATTLE TRIAL

End of Defence of Forty Defendants on Rum Charges Is Near

Seattle, Oct. 21.—Retaliatory blows were being struck to-day in Federal court here, where forty alleged members of the Olmsted liquor ring are on trial on liquor conspiracy charges.

Federal Judge George M. Bourquin to-day refused to dismiss four of the defendants, whose motion for a directed verdict was taken under advisement last night. Motions for dismissal of all the other defendants were likewise denied yesterday.

Miss Mary White, former stenographer for Jerry L. Finch, attorney and co-defendant with Roy Olmsted in the first Olmsted case, was the first defence witness to-day.

SURRENDER EXPECTED

Court attaches have expressed the opinion that Olmsted is not far from Seattle and will submit to arrest immediately after the trial of his alleged co-conspirators. Mrs. Olmsted has asserted that efforts were made to keep the former Seattle Police lieutenant away from the trial, as it was believed his absence would strengthen the defence.

The defence testimony to-day was expected to be brief, with a possibility the case may be in the hands of the jury to-night.

SHARP CLASH

Closing arguments of the prosecution yesterday were enlivened by a sharp clash between United States attorney Thomas P. Revelle and Russell C. Jackson, prohibition agent and a Government witness. Jackson asserted under insistent questioning by John F. Dore, chief of the defence counsel, that Revelle had threatened to wire to Washington, D.C., to obtain his dis-

Well-known Man, Who Had Suffered For Years With Catarrah of the Stomach and Rheumatic Pains, Gets Relief

When a well-known man has suffered for years, has tried many treatments without result and then finally finds a medicine that gives him relief and new health, isn't it a matter of more than passing importance? What is more important than health?

Such an experience has just been enjoyed by Isaac Mann, who is in the employ of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture, with headquarters in the Vernon Irrigation District. WEST STOREHOUSE OF WEALTH, SAYS HON. A. M. MANSON

"British Columbia did not receive any support from Manitoba in its claims. Manitoba fought the westbound freight cuts, saying that irrespective of what happened in the West, Manitoba would be prejudiced. Gentlemen, the time has come when we cannot think that way of our country. We must live and let live. We must be mutually helpful, even if it is necessary to make some slight sacrifice ourselves, we must be fair to other parts of the country.

"British Columbia has effected a saving of something like $15,000,000 in commodity rates, as a result of the reductions, and the business of the railroads has grown.

RETURN OF NATIONAL RESOURCES

"All provinces in Canada at this time are interested in the return of their natural resources. British Columbia is claiming the return of the railway lands in the interior and in the Peace River district. You in Alberta are claiming the return of your resources, and in Saskatchewan it is the same thing. We, the three Western provinces, have much in common, and everything to gain from studying our problems together.

"There is a quality of taxation and sometimes a duplication of legislation. The Federal administration has need of new sources of revenue, and sometimes there has been an invasion of what we consider the provincial field.

"Much is to be learned by a common study of our problems. Only in recent years has it begun to be understood that British Columbia, too, is an agricultural Province. The Peace River country is a potential granary of immense proportions. British Columbia is a wonderful mixed farming country. It has grazing lands, fruit areas, dairying conditions and everything to make for all round success in agriculture. Besides this it has its mines, its fish, its timber and the associated industry of pulp and paper, with natural resources in reserve that are rich enough to provide wealth and employment for many years when developed.

"For these and many reasons we are delighted to welcome you to British Columbia. Your visit cannot help but leave you impressed with the possibilities for mutual development, with the great need of co-operation and coordination in the three Western provinces," concluded Mr. Manson.

Mayor J. C. Pendray presided at the banquet, which was held in the ballroom at the Empress Hotel. City Aldermen and many prominent public men of the Coast attended the gathering, at which civic leaders of the three Western provinces sat down in friendly companionship at the close of their first convention day.

URGES EXTENSION OF P.G.E. LINE

Mayor Louis D. Taylor of Vancouver, president of the Western Canada Development and Unity League, in a brief address made a plea for the continuation of the P.G.E. Railway to Prince George and into the Peace River District, and round by way of North Vancouver to Vancouver Centre in the South. Settlement would follow the road, he said.

The potentialities of British Columbia were little known, he continued, asking his hearers to attempt in their minds a picture of the Province fifty years from to-day. The western Province would then be not only an asset to Canada in the very highest sense, but an asset to the British Empire, with mineral, timber and food products needed by the Red-patch countries of the world.

This Province, continued Mayor Taylor, had everything to gain from the development of its provincial neighbors, and all were coming to a realization of the fact that Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia had a common destiny, with open doorways to the markets of the world, on this Coast. Gatherings such as the present convention were hastening that day. "Fifty years from to-day the West will be the best bet on the North American continent," concluded Mayor Taylor.

SAANICH DEVELOPMENT

Reeve William Crouch, Saanich, described the convention as the most important gathering held in a civic way in years. Saanich, he said, had everything to gain from co-operation and realized it. It was the largest municipality in area in the Province and had a wonderful future in store for it, in the maturity of time.

Upwards of fifty-five carloads of strawberries had been shipped to the Prairies this year, and the Prairies were one of the best markets of the district. A poor crop year in Saskatchewan and Alberta meant losses for Saanich, and vice versa.

"Anything which will bind the West more closely together will be good for us, and good for the whole future of the country," concluded Reeve Crouch.

Reeve Herbert Anscomb of Oak Bay, and Reeve James Elrick, Esquimalt, were called on to speak, but neither had been able to attend. Reeve Elrick spent the morning and afternoon at the sessions but was engaged last night.

ALLY OF GENERAL SCHEME

In a neat tribute to the Western Mayors and Reeves, Mayor Wells Gray, New Westminster, gave thanks for the cordial treatment extended to the delegates to the Union of B.C. Municipalities, who had been invited to Victoria to sit in with the present conference. They had heard much of vital interest, and had been received with a cordiality that had left its impression.

For New Westminster, contiued its mayor, much could be said. New Westminster had fresh water shipping facilities that gave it an especial place in the scheme of port outlets. It must be considered as an ally of the general scheme of Pacific ports, and would be happy to co-operate with Vancouver, Victoria, Prince Rupert in the development of these assets. Just now it was investigating the cold storage openings, and had secured favorable notice in this regard, concluded the speaker.

HEAD OF SHAKESPEARE MEMORIAL THEATRE TO VISIT SCHOOL

In connection with the forthcoming visit of Mr. A. D. Flower, chairman of the governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, to Victoria, Mrs. Wilfrid Ord has received a letter from Mr. Flower in which he expresses his intention of visiting the Victoria School of Expression. The school specializes in Shakespearian work, and for many months students have been following with interest the work in connection with the rebuilding of the Memorial Theatre at Stratford.

This evening scenes from three different Shakespearian plays will be given by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord and her students. Two selections by local poets, "Innocence," by Mr. John Hosie, and "Little Billie," by Miss A. T. Riddell, will also be included in the programme. The recital will take place at 8 o'clock in Harmony Hall, Fort Street.

Two Women Owe Health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Adolphe, Manitoba.—"I was very weak and had great pains during my periods so that I could not sweep the floor. The pains were in the right side and extended to the left and then downwards. It seemed as if the body was heavy and upside down. It is for these troubles I took the Vegetable Compound. I saw about it in a paper and one woman prevailed on me to take it. It has helped me in every way, the pains are less, and I have more appetite. It is a pleasure to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to other women."—Mrs. J. L. COURCHAINE, St. Adolphe, Manitoba.

Toronto, Ont.—"I am at the Change of Life with hot flashes, dizziness, weakness and nervousness. I had head noises and was short of breath. I was this way about six months when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers. I have taken eight bottles so far and found great relief."—Mrs. R. J. SALMON, 112 Lawlor Ave., Toronto, Ont.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, OCTOBER 21, 1902

Ottawa, Oct. 21—The retirement of Hon. J. I. Tarte from the Cabinet is expected to be announced at any moment. Those who have followed the Tarte campaign from its beginning could not look for anything else.

Victoria school trustees are unanimously in favor of continuing the course of manual training now provided by the Macdonald-Lloyd fund, and so informed Professor James W. Robertson, the Dominion organizer of the schools promulgating the study at a meeting specially called for the purpose of discussing the matter.

There wasn't enough business before the City Council last night to keep it going more than a hour, but nevertheless the programme included some very interesting items.

Trial in Montreal Is Result of Fire

Montreal, Oct. 21.—How the seventy-eight children, victims of the Laurier Palace flrt panic, were hopelessly trapped and crushed to death on January 9 last, was once more recounted yesterday when the trial of Ameen Lawand, proprietor, and Michel Arie and Camil Bazzi, employees of the moving picture house in the east end of Montreal was begun in the Court of King's Bench.

The three are charged with manslaughter.

Dramatic was the evidence of Fire Captain Blaine, who described that because of the blocking of the narrow, turning staircase, only two children "lying loose" on top of the human pile could be saved. The others had perished, in spite of the efforts of firemen to haul them out with cables, he said.

Nothing new was brought to light by the first witnesses heard, except the part of the evidence given by Xavier Nadeau, shoemaker, who said children upstairs had broken window panes and had climbed down a telegraph pole, and that other children had been "sent sliding" down the firemen's ladders and received at the bottom by firemen and volunteer workers.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Diphteria, which caused the death of Wilfred Lesaux, aged five, a few days ago, is apparently spreading in the district of Todmorden, a suburb of Toronto. Two new cases have been reported, one a boy and the other a woman.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. It costs only 75 cents. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days. (Advt.)

WESTERN CANADA NEEDS ARE TOLD TO CIVIC HEADS

Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., Heard on Future of Peace River Area

Scientific Research and Acquisition of Patent Processes Urged

Opening up the discussion on the Peace River district before Western Mayors and Reeves at the Empress Hotel this morning, Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., made an extended review of the northern area, and a general plea for the study of all industrial, agricultural and transportation problems of the Canadian West.

Canada was importing iron, steel, gasoline and fuel oils in increasing quantities, while everything necessary for the production of the products were contained in Western Canada, said Mr. Stevens. The completion of a Peace River outlet to the Coast was necessary, in view of the 20,000 people there and the annual output of 10,000,000 bushels of grain, he said.

RICH SOIL

The Peace River district had an area of 73,000 square miles, six times the size of Belgium, declared Mr. Stevens, with approximately 47,000,000 acres of land, largely suitable for agriculture. The population had grown from 2,000 people in 1911 to upwards of 20,000 to 25,000 people to-day. The climate was unexcelled and the soil rich in its yield. Wheat ripened in from ninety-five to 105 days, for the new championship variety and the original Marquis wheat. The short period of maturity in grains and grasses in the Peace River district rendered the territory one of vast importance to the West.

Upwards of 10,000,000 acres of land had been surveyed and plotted, and of these 7,250,000 stood available for settlement at once. The production in grain was 10,500,000 bushels last year, in wheat and oats, and this was produced from 1,250,000 acres, not all of which was under cultivation. Crop yields of fifty bushels to the acre in wheat were not unusual. It would take seventy-five ocean carriers to take the Peace River grain to market, on the basis of last year's production, he continued.

MINERALS

At present there were twenty-five country elevators in the area, and upwards of 350 would be required to store the crop of the current year, he had been advised. Despite this, said the speaker, it would be an error commonly made to consider only the wheat possibilities of the district. The minerals included gold, silver and lead in some localities, and coal deposits that formed one of the most important potential fuel beds in the Dominion. In addition potential development of oil and gas was considerable, and indications had been secured of gypsum deposits.

Lack of transportation was the chief problem of the area at present, said Mr. Stevens, telling of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and overland route, which, he said, made a distance of approximately 1,500 miles from Grand Prairie to Vancouver by that way, as against a distance of 1,600 to 1,650 miles to Fort William. By means of a Western outlet on this Coast the distance to tidewater could be cut in half.

"There is no doubt in the world that the natural outlet of the Peace River district is on the Pacific Coast, but in approaching any problem in the West we must remember that these problems are largely economic. In regard to the Peace River area, there are now 20,000 people there, turning out 10,000,000 bushels of grain a year, and there is need of providing this production with some outlet," continued the speaker.

A PAYING RAILWAY

It was the old question of rail or people first, he continued. Many quoted the bitter experience of Canada in regard to pushing rails ahead of actual settlement. These were arguments that could not be brushed lightly aside. To his mind the problem of the Peace River country was one that had to be approached on the basis of a railway that would pay for itself. If the project could be put on a self-sustaining basis the need for the transportation would be all the stimulus required.

In approaching the Federal Government with this project, he said, the people of the Peace River district had first to show the necessity for the road, and then that such a railway could be made to pay and would not become a burden on the taxpayers. Personally, he was convinced that this could be shown. There was a report of engineers advising against the project, but engineers were not always the best qualified to judge of a business question, a problem in economics. It would be unfair to pretend there was no element of chance in the building of such a road, but there were some gambles that might be considered reasonably secure and worthy of the risk.

Giving figures for the importation of materials into Canada Mr. Stevens said 405,000,000 gallons of gasoline had been imported into Canada at a fancy price last year. In the same period 5,000,000 gallons only had been manufactured at home. There had been 20,000,000 tons of coal imported and $250,000,000 spent for the importation of iron and steel products. The people of Canada, particularly in the West, were owners of a great natural estate. It was their duty to study these questions. All the coal, iron, steel and gasoline imported into Canada last year could have been produced at home and in the two provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, he averred.

FAVORS RESEARCH

He was heartily in favor of industrial and chemical research, continued the speaker, citing the progress made in the transmutation of coal into gasoline and fuel oils in Germany and France by the Burgess process. While it was impracticable to ship Alberta or Peace River coal to the East, the oils that could be made from the coal could be carried and to advantage, Canada, said Mr. Stevens, should acquire the Canadian patent rights of the Burgess process, encourage their use and place the royalties to the revenue of the country. The coal-to-oil successes of Europe were only part of epoch-making advances that had been made in the study of the scientific use of natural resources. It was Canada's duty to learn these things. Already, he said, provision had been made by the Federal Government for a National Research Laboratory at Ottawa. Providence had designed Canada as an industrial area of great future wealth.

With the quantities of iron and other minerals in the mountains, the Dominion peoples should not still be importing iron and steel. Norway and Sweden and Great Britain were making use of magnetic iron ore, which by a special process was rendered more valuable than other kinds, instead of being a loss as before. This, too, was a process Canada could use for the development of the West.

The development of industries and the maintenance of a transportation system in a healthy and paying condition were necessary for the proper development of the Dominion, concluded Mr. Stevens.

In the general discussion to follow, Reeve William Crouch, Saanich, advised against railway building to the Peace River area ahead of its day. Hundreds of thousands of acres of land nearer the centres of civilization were remaining vacant and had need of development first.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORTS

In a brief talk on municipal airports J. E. Eve gave an instructive review of the progress made in modern commercial aviation and told of his plans to start a flying school here under the auspices of the Victoria Aerial Club. Such clubs, he said, flourished in England where flights were held on regular days twice a week. All Canadian municipalities would one day require airports, concluded Mr. Eve.

Mayor L. D. Taylor, presiding, stated Vancouver already had taken the question under review and was looking for a suitable site. Seattle and Victoria are also working along that line, he said.

Alderman A. Parmilo told of Edmonton's airport, now established, and one of the first in Canada. After brief discussion the meeting adjourned for lunch.

The luncheon to-day was held at Hamsterley Lakeside, where the delegates were taken in cars from the city. This afternoon they will be entertained at tea at Government House and to-night will attend the annual ball of the Victoria Police Department at the Empress. Mayor J. C. Pendray opened the afternoon session with a constructive address on the future of municipalities in Western Canada.

MANSON INVOKES NEW STATUTE TO HALT LOAN FIRM

But Pioneer Savings and Loan Society Will Appeal to B.C. Appeal Court

Federal Company, Outside Provincial Jurisdiction, Incorporated by Same Interests

Legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature to protect the public of British Columbia in the operation of loan and saving organizations was invoked for the first time by Attorney-General Manson to halt the business of the Pioneer Savings and Loan Society. While Mr. Manson was moving to prevent this concern operating under provincial incorporation, the men chiefly interested in it incorporated a new organization, the Pioneer Bond Syndicate Limited, under Federal laws. This concern is now operating with headquarters in Vancouver and is outside the scope of the Provincial authorities.

The highly important questions involved in this case arose when the Provincial Registrar of Companies required the Pioneer Savings and Loan Society to comply with the new amendments to the Savings and Loan Association Act, passed this year. When the concern failed to comply with the requirements laid down by the Registrar he ordered its incorporation cancelled. The concern appealed to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to prevent this cancellation, but such an order was refused by the court. The registrar thereupon proceeded with the cancellation, but allowed the association the right to appeal to the B.C. appeal court. This appeal will be pressed shortly. Should the Appeal Court support the association, its incorporation will be restored.

OUTSIDE B.C. SCOPE

While these proceedings were in progress the Pioneer Bond Syndicate Limited was incorporated as a Dominion Company outside the scope of the Province. Officials here stated to-day that leaders in the Pioneer Savings and Loan Society were named as incorporators of the new Federal concern. The possibilities revealed by the Federal incorporation of a company under attack provincially are regarded at the Registrar's office as highly important.

VISCOUNT CECIL'S CAMPAIGN

"DO NOT LET US FORGET THAT OUT of every pound of taxation we pay, fourteen shillings are due to past wars or preparations for future wars; this is a terrible burden, far greater than any other country in the world is bearing at present."

Viscount Cecil made this statement in London to-day during the course of his first of a series of speeches which he will deliver before Christmas in the cause of disarmament. He also informed his audience that Great Britain, with the possible exception of Russia, where accurate information is not available, is the only European country where expenditure for armaments is larger than before the war.

It will be recalled that Viscount Cecil resigned from the Baldwin Cabinet because he was unable to agree with its disarmament policy. He was Great Britain's representative at the recent gathering at Geneva, the failure of which was a keen disappointment to him. His historic letter to the Prime Minister contained the following:

On the broad policy of disarmament, the majority of the Cabinet and I are not really agreed. I believe that general reduction and limitation of armament is essential to the peace of the world and that on that peace depends not only the existence of the British Empire, but even of European civilization itself.

I regard limitation of armaments by far the most important public question of the day. Further, I am convinced that no considerable limitation of armaments can be obtained except by international agreement. I do not say it should be bought at any price. But I do say that it is of greater value than any other political object.

It is enough now to say that I found myself out of sympathy with the instructions I received, and I believe an agreement might have been reached on terms which would have sacrificed no essential British interest. Unfortunately, failure followed, and the causes of that failure may have to be probed when Parliament meets.

It is obvious from the tone of his first public address on the question that Viscount Cecil is going to use plain language and facts which the average man will be able to understand. His Lordship will have the warm support of a very large and influential section of the Press and not a few of those newspapers usually friendly to the Government and its policies will hesitate to challenge the truth and force of his words.

If any real menace to the peace of the world existed now, or if any nation or group of nations desired and could finance another war, the Admirals and the naval experts might have some justification for demanding still more money for fighting ships. Great Britain accepted Germany's challenge and launched her "two keels for one" programme in order to be ready for eventualities. The clash came in 1914 and in less than five years most of Germany's battleships were led into Scapa Flow, soon afterwards to be scuttled by their own crews. That was supposed to be the end of the chapter as far as serious naval rivalry was concerned. Yet in 1927 the three great naval powers of the world found it impossible to agree to any sort of policy that would lighten the burden of the taxpayer and remove some of the causes of international friction.

Viscount Cecil now is going to try and convince the people of Great Britain that "an agreement might have been reached on terms which would have sacrificed no essential British interest." Both moral and economic arguments support the cause which he, at no little sacrifice, intends to serve.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN'S "CRIME"

ONCE AGAIN THE TORONTO STAR has had to remind The Toronto Telegram that when it berates Canadian public men because they call the British Empire the Commonwealth of British Nations it is hauling King George over the coals as well. The Telegram says that Sir Robert Borden should have been greeted with "hoots and hisses" when he used "the overworked Woodrow Wilsonian phrase," instead of the older expression, at the Winnipeg convention.

The Star quotes from the message which King George sent to the Imperial Conference last year, when he said:

I shall follow with interest and sympathy your discussions of those important questions which will come before you and the settlement of which, I trust, will promote the unity and greatness of THE COMMONWEALTH OF BRITISH NATIONS.

Strange as it may seem to The Toronto Telegram, The Star proceeds, the Imperial Conference did not greet this message with hoots and hisses, but at the conclusion of the Conference, on motion of Premier Stanley Baldwin, sent the following to the King:

The foundation of our work has been the sure knowledge that to each of us, as to all your Majesty's subjects, the crown is the abiding symbol and emblem of the unity of THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS.

The Star concludes by telling The Telegram that if it is going to include in its private "hootery and hissery" all the people who use this now-well-established expression, there will be a considerable overcrowding even of its notably capacious establishment. But it always will be difficult for some people to change with the times. We have our own Bourbons in this country.

TRUTHS ABOUT SALESMANSHIP

WHAT MR. HARRISON WATSON, CANada's senior Trade Commissioner to the United Kingdom, is telling the exporters of this country, Mr. A. C. McCurdy, K.C., is telling the leaders of British industry who are bemoaning the fact that they are not as strong in the markets of the world as they think they ought to be. Both say with emphasis that the manufacturer who wants to increase his business must advertise and keep on advertising.

Mr. Watson says it is imperative that Canadian exporters advertise their wares in the country with which they desire to do business. Australia and New Zealand are paying special attention to publicity in Great Britain and this Dominion must do the same if it is to sell more goods. Mr. McCurdy attacks those Old Country manufacturers who are clamoring for Protection to assist them in staving off Foreign competition and puts it up to them in this way:

Advertising is the most efficient and the cheapest salesman. America relies upon publicity as a better and cheaper salesman than ever a traveler or sales expert could be.

The American regards all the world as his shop. American manufacturers invade the English market and, by advertising, make us buy. If our manufacturers were willing to advertise thoroughly and make, through advertisement, their products a household word, I am confident they would find in the United States one of the richest and least-exploited markets in the world.

The markets we have lost as a consequence of the war are nothing to the markets we might find by advertising in America. The one thing British manufacturers lack for world-trade pre-eminence is publicity.

It is just the same with the small merchant or the city. The public relies upon the advertisement for information more than many people imagine. Salesmanship, as Mr. McCurdy implies, is another name for advertising. It is the advertised goods that are sold. The consumer knows nothing about those that are not advertised.

ANOTHER MUSSOLINI DECREE

THOSE FINANCIERS WHO STILL ARE disturbed about their large exports of money to Italy may have been cheered up by the news that Premier Mussolini has abolished all holidays. The workers of that country now have to be satisfied with Sunday as the only day of respite from their daily grind. All celebrations are to be held on the Sabbath so that six full days of work in each week may be put in all the year round.

Even those public holidays which mark the anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome and that which marks the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice between Italy and Austria in future will be held on the Sundays falling nearest the respective dates. It will thus be seen that Premier Mussolini has made a good job of the new decree which the Council of Ministers, the name by which government in Italy now goes, has just issued. It will be interesting to watch the reaction on the public, or such that we may hear about from those who get away from the country and are able to say what they think without fear of "suppression." The Italian people are saying nothing, of course, because they are not allowed to say anything. But they are thinking. Such silences in a whole population are ominous.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

POSTAL REVENUE
From The Toronto Star

Postmaster-General Veniot says the reduction in postage from 3 to 2 cents was expected to cause a deficit of from four to five millions, but increased business will make the deficit only two millions. And before long increased business will dispose of the deficit altogether.

QUEER PREJUDICES
From The London Observer

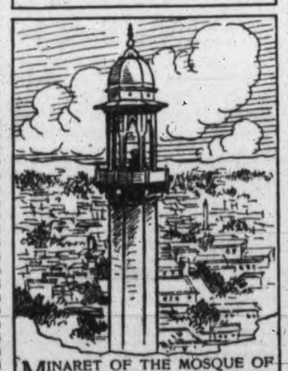

According to a London builder, people have a preference for "going up to bed," and many object to bungalows because they must sleep on the level. It is a queer prejudice; and The Manchester Guardian suggests a strain of ancestry which disposes us to mount to the treetops for rest, as the cat still curls round to make a nest for herself in the grass which is not there. There are other survivals of habit which require explanation. Why does a man in a restaurant prefer a table in a corner or by the wall, unless that it is safer in case an enemy should attack him with axes and spears? Women, perhaps, have not the same inclination, but, then, woman never was the fighting animal, and naturally would not acquire the fighting instincts. But why, in a bus, should most people incline to take the left side? It is hard to see what heredity has to do with that preference.

MINARET OF THE MOSQUE OF AURANGZEB, at Benares, is one of the largest Mohammedan edifices in the world. The tower leans in the manner of the Tower of Pisa, and on its uppermost balcony the Muezzin is voiced by the Hindu ministers, calling the "faithful" to prayer. The long wailing chant that reverberates across the city, is characteristic of the Mohammedan worship.

Canada Needs Stronger Spirit of Canadianism Native Sons Are Told

Virile National Consciousness Must Form Foundation of Country's Development, Leading Speakers Declare at Annual Banquet of Victoria Organization Which Now Covers Whole Dominion; Need of Canadian Unity Is Stressed

Canada's supreme need to-day is more and stronger Canadianism, leaders in politics, education and business declared in addresses to the sixth annual banquet of the Native Sons of Canada and the Canadian Daughters' League in the Native Sons' Hall last night. Canada's greatness, all the speakers at this function emphasized, must be built not only on material development, but on the character of her people, their national unity, and their spiritual strength.

Two hundred members of the Native Sons and the Canadian Daughters' League sat down to the banquet. Men and women prominent in every department of life were in attendance when Hugh Creelman, president of Assembly No. 1 of the Native Sons, opened the function. The numerous toasts on the programme all were devoted to matters in which the Native Sons and their associate organization are interested.

OF FIRST RANK IMPORTANCE

James H. Beatty, who proposed the opening toast to the British Commonwealth of Nations, suggested that the strength of the Empire lay in the variety of the peoples composing it. Canada, he added, was young, with much to learn, and it could profit by the experience and qualities of the older partners in the Empire scheme. All the strength of the English, the Scotch, the Irish and the Welsh, peoples would develop in Canada a nation of first rank importance, he predicted.

Speaking of his recent visit to England, Mr. Beatty declared Britain was on the mend after its post-war troubles. Its trade was being restored, prosperity was returning, he said.

Foundations of the present scheme of Empire, B. C. Nicholas said, in replying, to the toast, were laid in the establishment of Canadian Confederation. The success of Canada's experiment, he said, had been followed by similar systems of government in the other Dominions.

GREATEST AGENCY FOR GOOD

The Fathers of Confederation, building better than they knew, built not only the basis of Canada's greatness, but outlined what was to become the framework of the British Commonwealth of Nations, Mr. Nicholas declared. This scheme, unique and without precedent in history, would become, as it grew, the greatest agency for good that the world had ever seen, he predicted.

Thomas W. Hall, proposing the toast to the Dominion of Canada, referred to Canada as something infinitely greater than its vast material possessions. The soul of Canada, he said, was the important thing.

The reputation of Canada, said Mr. Hall, had spread in the old countries of the world. Canadians in Europe today were highly regarded because of the glory won by Canadian soldiers in the Great War. All Canada needed today, he said, was courage, confidence, to work on to its great destiny.

"Canada does not stand alone for wealth, for resources, but for something else, an intangible thing—that we can look the world in the face and say with St. Paul that we are citizens of no mean country!"

INSPIRING CHAPTER

Professor F. S. Farr, replying to the toast, recalled that just sixty-three years ago the Fathers of Confederation were drafting the series of seventy-two resolutions on which Confederation was framed. Since that time Canada's progress had formed a leading and inspiring chapter in the world's history, said Professor Farr, but back of this material was spiritual strength, the force of national character. This strength, he said, must depend to a great extent on immigration as Canada needed more and more population. The development of Canadian character was going forward all the time as a battle on the frontiers of settlement among foreign immigrants, Mr. Farr pointed out.

"I believe we will have to award the greatest honors to these people in the vanguard on the frontiers—that first generation of newcomers," he said. "The native Canadians are the reserves in this battle. We can stand behind those facing the battle on the frontier, to help them."

"Canada to-day stands for great, perhaps inmeasurable wealth, but its greatest treasure is the earnest, humble and courageous hearts of its people," Mr. Farr declared.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative Party leader, in proposing the toast to British Columbia, recalled the views that Canadians generally held regarding this Province when it entered Confederation in 1871—the idea that it was a useless mountain wilderness, a transcontinental railway could not pay for its axelgrease. Such ideas were highly amusing to modern British Columbians but they were not surprising as British Columbia had only become known in recent times. To-day, he said, British Columbia stands as one of the great units in a rapidly-growing Dominion. In every branch of industry British Columbia had made enormous steps forward, he pointed out, quoting figures to show this growth. And yet development of natural resources had only commenced.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S TRADE

Expansion of British Columbia trade was briefly traced by the speaker who saw in recent commercial development indications of a vast future commerce.

"Nothing is more necessary than immigration," said Dr. Tolmie. "But an immigrant is not an asset until he is successfully established here, producing wealth, providing tonnage for our railways, increasing our prosperity.

"We should aim to produce in B.C. as much as we can of the products which we now buy in large quantities abroad," he proceeded. "We should work also for the export of our surplus goods and to promote better understanding between the city and the country. Everyone here can start doing a service to British Columbia tomorrow morning by buying goods made in this Province."

Unity, said Dr. Tolmie, was the supreme need of Canada and in creating it, British Columbia should take a great and important share.

"No country can survive which does not appreciate spiritual values," said Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, in replying to the toast. He added that after listening to Dr. Tolmie he had come to the conclusion that British Columbia was doing pretty well.

Immigration, Mr. Pattullo went on, was a vital need in British Columbia. This fact was becoming better understood, he believed.

"It is the people coming in that keep people going out," he said. "It is the human who creates opportunity. We must welcome new settlers, accept them without reservation as fellow Canadians; and they and their side must be prepared to work and live for Canada, and, if necessary, to die for Canada!"

HUNDRED PER CENT CANADIAN

The word "Canadian" was too little heard in Canada, said Mr. Pattullo. "A man should not be known from his country of origin but as a Canadian," he urged. "Every citizen of this country should be a hundred per cent Canadian."

The toast to the City of Victoria was proposed by Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., former Mayor of the city.

"We can say as Victorians that we are citizens of no mean city," said Mr. Hayward, briefly tracing Victoria's growth from a tiny frontier fort to its present porportions. He told of the early settlement here on a site now occupied by the centre of the city.

"What a contrast between the little town of pioneer days and our fine modern city!" he exclaimed.

Mr. Hayward said he had great faith in the commercial future of Victoria and believed the time was not far distant when the city would be attracting capital in a large way.

"Victoria," he said, "will be exactly what we citizens of the city make it."

Alderman Robert Dewar, who replied to the toast, said he wondered if Victorians really appreciated their heritage in this city. The admiration of strangers here, he said, brought home to Victoria people the beauty and charm of their city.

"I sometimes think," he said, "that we are not as enthusiastic about our city as we should be. We should give up kicking. Remember that the mule cannot pull when he is kicking, or kick when he is pulling. Let us profit by this worthy example."

CANADIAN DAUGHTERS

The toast to the Canadian Daughters' League was proposed by Joseph Patrick, who pointed out that the league represented the emancipation of women and their new place of greater importance in the life of Canada.

Mr. Patrick paid an eloquent tribute to the women of Canada. At his suggestion the gentlemen rose and sang for "They Are Jolly Good Fellows," in honor of the ladies present.

Mrs. G. H. Gardiner, replying to the toast, told of the work of the Canadian Daughters' League which, she said, had grown in four years to a nation-wide organization working for unity in Canada.

"The League is trying to build a distinctive Canadianism," she said, "to encourage young Canadian literature and art."

Mrs. Gardiner came to the defence of modern women who, she said, maintained the fine virtues of other generations, though with a greater freedom. She pleaded for tolerance towards young women who, she said, were passing through a period of change and emancipation. Out of this change, she predicted, would emerge a finer type of womanhood than the world had ever seen. In this development the home would be the greatest factor and she urged Canadian women to see that the home was kept free of all undesirable influences.

Mrs. Robert Ritchie, president of the Canadian Daughters League, proposed the toast to the Native Sons. The Sons of Canada, she said, had always been loyal to their country, but she felt that Canadians should take a more active part in the affairs of their country. It was to make Canadians realize their responsibilities, she said, that the Native Sons of Canada had been organized in Victoria as the beginning of a great nation-wide body working for Canadian unity.

William Ivel, past president of the Native Sons here, replying to the toast, explained the purposes of the Native Sons organization. The greatest aim of the organization, he said, was to build a strong Canadianism and a better Canada. The founders of the Native Sons, he explained, had felt that such an organization was needed to help Canadians "find themselves."

"We were not anti-anything but pro-Canadian," he said.

"We have only started our work," said Mr. Ivel. "We have one great objective—we hope before the next census is taken the Canadian Parliament will have established that Canadian citizenship to which we native-born think we are entitled."

Vocal solos were delivered during the evening by Mrs. J. McCahill.

The toast of The Press was proposed by Robert Hunt and responded to by Mr. Nicholas.

CALIFORNIA PASTOR FOR KNOX CHURCH

Rev. T. H. Davies, M.A., to Be Inducted on Friday, November 4

The Presbytery of Victoria met in St. Andrew's Church yesterday to consider a call that had been extended by the congregation of Knox Church to the Rev. T. H. Davies, M.A., formerly of Australia, but at present pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Mendocino City, California. A large deputation from the local church appeared in support of the call. As all the papers in the case were found to be in order the call was sustained and the induction set for Friday evening, November 4.

Mr. Davies, who has been supplying the pulpit of Knox Church for some time, is a native of Wales. He graduated from Manchester University with his Master of Arts degree in 1908. He also took his theological training in the same institution. For five years he was pastor of a Presbyterian Church in Liverpool, England. On account of his health he was advised to go to Australia, where he held a pastorate for three years. He received a call to California in 1923, and has resided there since that time.

Mr. Davies is recognized as an able preacher, and his coming to Victoria is felt to be a real acquisition to the Presbyterian forces of the city.

President of High School Body Asks Co-operation of Student Body

Charles Armstrong, president of the Students' Council at the Victoria High School, before a massed gathering of students and members of the faculty yesterday afternoon, announced that the expenditures for school activities through the past year had amounted to $2,104.56. This sum was obtained by the students, through lectures, concerts and so on, he said. President Armstrong fixed the expenditure for the forthcoming year at about $2,500.

He said: "We are placing the handling of our business affairs in your keeping, and we charge you to carry them out to the very best of your ability. We want you to make this the most successful year, as far as student activities are concerned, that the High School has ever experienced."

President Armstrong stated that if each student would give $1 it would give the council $1,200 with which to work. This would leave a remainder of $1,300 to be raised by other means.

The applause expressed the willingness of the students to co-operate with their Council.

It was further announced that to-night, beginning at 8 o'clock at the Victoria High School, Professor P. Elliot will speak on "How Science Has Aided International Friendships."

The lecture, given under the auspices of the High School Modern History Club, will be open to the public, and tickets may be obtained at the door. This is the third of a series of lectures which are being given under the same auspices.

WOMEN OF COLWOOD HEAR HEALTH TALK

Colwood, Oct. 21.—The regular monthly meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute was held in the local hall on Wednesday afternoon. The president was in the chair and there was a very good attendance.

A letter of thanks was read from the Solarium committee in acknowledgment of a bundle of sewing from the members of the institute.

It was decided that the institute would again compete for the institute cup at the 1928 Victoria Fall Fair, and committees were appointed at this meeting to take charge. The work for the exhibit has already begun.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Harry Parker for a donation of thirty books for the institute library, which gift was greatly appreciated by the members.

The Rev. Mr. Allen, vicar of the parish, gave a most delightful talk on horticulture, which subject proved of considerable interest to the members.

Miss Helen Kelly, R.N., convener of the child welfare branch of the institute, gave an interesting talk on public health and child welfare, in which she pointed out the responsibility of the individual in regard to the spread of disease or the preservation of health.

Miss Kelly had on exhibit, among other health literature, samples of "The Modern Health Crusade," which had been distributed to the children of the district through the kind co-operation of the teachers in the different schools. Miss Peecy and Miss Cullum, teachers of the primary classes in the Langford and Colwood schools, who were present at the meeting, each spoke in the highest terms of the value of this crusade and the interest taken by the children in keeping the records on the cards. Miss Hawkswood, principal of the Colwood school, asked for a supply of the literature on hand for distribution among the senior pupils.

At the conclusion of her remarks, Miss Kelly asked the ladies of the institute to undertake the care of serving refreshments at the children's fancy dress party she was arranging, to be held in the Colwood Hall on All Hallowe'en, which they gladly undertook to do. All the children of the district, with their parents and friends, will be welcome at the party, and many novel games and forms of entertainment are being planned for their amusement, it was announced.

A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speakers by the meeting and a pleasant tea hour brought the afternoon to a close, at which Mrs. H. Parker and Mrs. J. Goodall were the hostesses.

The second of the series of card parties that are being held under the auspices of the Colwood Hall Committee took place Wednesday night in the Colwood Hall. The series promises to be very popular among the residents of Colwood, who welcome the opportunity offered to meet their neighbors in these pleasant, sociable contests.

The junior branch of the W.A. at Colwood held a very successful sale of work in the Colwood Hall on Tuesday afternoon, when all kinds of novelties, beautiful needlework, home cooking and candy, etc., were offered to the public for sale.

The sale was opened by Mrs. Chrow, diocesan superintendent of the Victoria branch of the Junior W.A., who gave a very encouraging little speech to the young people and was unstinting in her praise of the efforts of the Colwood juniors to raise funds to carry on their work, and of the excellent samples of culinary art and beautiful work on exhibit. The needlework stall was in the care of the Misses Margaret and Irene Peatt, while the home cooking stall was ably managed by Miss Norma Parker and Miss Edith Walsh. The Misses Gladys Robinson and Eleanor Peatt had charge of the candy and ice cream stand and afternoon tea was served by the Misses Olive Walsh, Ina Brown and Lyn Piercy. The cake guessing competition was taken charge of by Beryl Piercy and Marion Forman, Miss Hawkswood winning the cake by guessing the correct weight.

A substantial sum was realized as a result of the afternoon's activities and the members of the branch expressed their gratitude to the visitors for their generous support.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps! Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and healing commences.

JOHN CLAY HEADS WARD FOUR TORIES

Association Elects Officers at Annual Meeting; Speakers Protest Loyalty

John Clay, well-known Victoria lawyer, was elected chairman of Ward Four Conservative Association at the annual meeting of that organization in the Campbell Building last night. Other officers were elected as follows: James E. Huxtable, secretary-treasurer; members of the central executive, Capt. and Mrs. N. E. Fairweather, C. W. Hooper and Robert Hiscocks.

John Day, the retiring chairman, submitted his annual report, which outlined the work of the year. Mr. Huxtable, in his report, protested against a recent public admonition to Conservatives to get behind Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative leader.

"I have never heard anyone say a word against Dr. Tolmie," said Mr. Huxtable. "I want to say that we are all behind him. I think we are all friends of his. We know who our leader is. He was elected at the Kamloops convention, and it would take another convention to alter that selection."

Major Gus Lyons, M.P.P., told the meeting that the people of British Columbia were eager to dethrone the Liberal Government and establish a Conservative administration. He declared that Canada's greatest weakness economically was the export of its raw materials to the United States for manufacture there.

Joshua Hnchliffe, M.P.P., attacked the Provincial Government's taxation policies which, he said, were placing enormous new burdens on the public.

I.O.D.E. OBJECTS TO REPORT APPEARING IN LONDON TIMES

Victoria Happenings in Prince's Visit Attributed to Vancouver; Protest Sent

The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., at its meeting yesterday had its attention drawn by Mrs. Curtis Sampson to the account of the recent visit to British Columbia of the Prince of Wales, as it appeared in The London Times. The meeting took exception to the London paper's attribution of incidents in the Prince's visit occurring at Victoria to Vancouver, the item in question stating that the Prince was "informally" received at Victoria by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and then proceeded to Vancouver, at which place, according to the report, such happenings as the social functions at Government House, the lying-in-state and funeral services for the late Premier, took place.

After hearing the account read, the secretary was instructed by the meeting to write to The London Times and point out that Victoria was the capital of British Columbia, and that all the formal occasions incident to the Royal visit occurred here.

NEW SECRETARY

The meeting was held at the headquarters in the Hamley Building yesterday, Mrs. J. Hebden Gillespie, the regent, presiding. The resignation of Mrs. E. C. Hayward as recording secretary was received with regret, and the nomination of Mrs. P. E. Corby was unanimously endorsed by the meeting. Mrs. Gillespie expressing a cordial welcome upon Mrs. Corby assuming office.

The patronage of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., was requested by the Canadian Legion for the annual poppy ball, which is to be held in the Empress Hotel on November 10, and a request from the Armistice Day committee to support Poppy Day on Saturday, November 5, was referred to the chapters to ask individual members to offer their services as taggers.

The needs of the Amputation Club were also referred to the chapters to assist the club, a donation from one chapter being reported.

In reporting for the child welfare committee Mrs. Miles mentioned the need of a piano for the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay, and the matter will receive sympathetic consideration.

PIONEERS' GRAVES

A letter regarding the disgraceful condition of several of the graves of early pioneers in Ross Bay cemetery was received from the Bishop Cridge Chapter, with special reference to well-known medical men, whose services to the community entitles them to the respect and regard of their last resting places, also men of the navy who lie buried there, and the matter will be dealt with by a special committee.

Miss A. B. Cooke in reporting on the education work, asked for orders for the I.O.D.E. calendars to be sent in as early as possible; already 370 copies have been ordered, and copies are at Municipal Chapter headquarters for the education secretaries to take away.

The National Chapter, I.O.D.E., has endorsed the resolution sponsored by Mrs. Alice Thomson of this city that every member should purchase at least two copies, and increase their distribution in schools, municipal buildings and public places.

MRS. GILLESPIE DELEGATE

The regent urged each chapter to give special consideration to the correspondence sent forward from the National Chapter, especially the inspiring letter from the regent, Miss Church, and also the questionnaire regarding the present condition of the primary chapters.

Each chapter has been provided with a copy of the report of the national meeting, and Mrs. Gillespie earnestly requested a close study of the valuable material contained in it.

A request from the Provincial Chapter that Mrs. Hebden Gillespie attend the bi-annual meeting to be held in Burnaby next week, and act as standard bearer on that occasion, was received and the Municipal Chapter was gratified at the honor shown.

YOUR BABY and MINE
by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BABIES SHOULD ALL BE LIKE THIS ONE

Mrs. C. A. L. writes:

"My baby is five months old and weighs twenty pounds. He was a short, fat baby when born. He is such a good baby, will lie by the hour and watch the vines and shrubs from the window. Sometimes he will sleep from seven at night until the same time the next morning, but most often he has his last meal at ten. He sleeps a lot during the day.

He used to be able to go six and seven hours without nursing, now he can hardly wait three, unless he happens to fall asleep just before a nursing period. He has never had a bite to eat. Should he have orange juice and olive oil? How should milk be diluted for a baby his age?

He has worn a sleeveless wool band all Summer; seldom has had a dress on and his feet and legs are so brown from going barefooted. I am old-fashioned enough to believe that a child should have some wool over the abdomen until his teeth are in. I have a friend whose baby was a perfect specimen at birth. He has been dressed in cotton since birth and nearly had pneumonia, has hay fever and coughs and sniffles at every breath."

ANSWER

Your baby has gained so very well that I believe he would do as well if fed on the four-hour schedule. In addition the baby should have cereal, orange juice, and cod liver oil, not olive oil. The two are quite different. A six-ounce complementary feeding, of which the baby could take what he wanted, would be three ounces of milk, the same of boiled water and one scant teaspoon of sugar.

I, too, believe that children, especially thin children with an inadequate fat-pad over the abdomen, should have the protection of some wool. The amount depends on the particular climate. These are never uncomfortable and surely do the baby no harm and they are a protection against changes of temperature. And what climate is without these?

Won't you write for the feeding leaflet and the one on orange juice and cod liver oil? These may be had for the asking and a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

REASONS FOR WEANING

Mrs. S. A.:

You do not need to apologize for weaning your young baby if you have tuberculosis. This, or any "grave constitutional disease," is a legitimate cause for weaning.

NURSING MOTHERS

Breast fed is best fed

NATURAL feeding means so much to a baby's health and happiness. Doctors the world over encourage mothers to breast-feed their children. It is nature's way and artificial feeding can never take its place.

But special and extra nourishment is needed to ensure adequate maternal milk. Take Ovaltine, the delicious tonic food beverage before and during the nursing period.

Ovaltine, prepared from ripe barley malt, fresh eggs and creamy milk, is just the type of concentrated nourishment needed. Easily digested, quickly absorbed, it furnishes a plentiful supply of rich milk in a perfectly natural way. Ask your doctor.

Drink Ovaltine for health—the year 'round. 60c, 90c, $1.50 and special family size, $5.25, at all druggists. It is economical to buy the larger sized tins.

PRAISES SHAW IN PLEASING LECTURE

Prof. W. L. MacDonald is Speaker in University Extension Series

That Bernard Shaw originated his own philosophy, was the possibility pointed out by Prof. W. L. MacDonald, M.A., Ph.D., in his lecture entitled "George Bernard Shaw," given as the first of this season's series of University Extension lectures, at Victoria College last night.

Although he realized the intimate effect of Samuel Butler's ideas on the Irish playwright, the lecturer had little sympathy with those critics who suggest that Shaw looked to the continental writers Nietzsche, Schopenhauer and Ibsen for his philosophic thought. In proof of this belief Dr. MacDonald read an extract from one of Shaw's works in which the writer himself asks why men should go beyond England to find the foundation of his thought.

SEEDS OF REBELLION

The speaker intimated that the childhood of George Bernard Shaw probably had a great effect in the moulding of that man's ideas. Brought up in a household where conservatism and blind faith in religion were the only virtues, the spirit of young Shaw was early sown with the seeds of rebellion against convention and orthodox religious views. But it was in this early period of his life that the future critic learned the fundamental principles of music from his mother, who was an opera singer, the lecturer said.

At the age of twenty he left his home in Ireland, to seek fortune in London, where he lived, with his mother, in poverty until he gained recognition.

But recognition as a writer was not sufficient for Shaw, said Prof. MacDonald. The great vitality of the man would not allow him to become stagnant in his ideas, and he set to work criticizing art, music and social conditions. Here the lecturer showed the advantage of the amateur over the specialist in criticizing any work. For, whereas the specialist could judge only in his own department, such men as Shaw, with a wider outlook, were able to draw comparisons from outside subjects. And lest the great playwright might be thought to be talking of something of which he knew very little, Bernard Shaw himself said that he never undertook the criticism of a man's work until he knew six times as much about it as the person himself did.

STAYS YOUTHFUL

The lecturer then spoke on the man's "modernness" and his ability to keep his mind youthful. Some would-be critics say that Shaw's work is done. Such as these, Dr. MacDonald said, were not wide enough awake, nor subtle enough to perceive that man's progressiveness. Indeed, the speaker said, one must be a little quicker than the "up-to-the-minute mark" to keep up with Bernard Shaw. He is always growing, and has a genius for life, remarked the speaker. In his sympathy towards the younger set he also shows his "ultra-modernness."

The vitality and "liveness" of George Bernard Shaw is not only characterized by his literary criticisms and satirical writings, continued the lecturer, but is also shown in the work he has done in the Fabian Society. The speaker made the statement that the playwright had given over a thousand addresses on socialism before audiences varying from the economic section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science to six policemen in Hyde Park, the latter being the best address he ever delivered, Shaw himself claims. In doing this, the great playwright is the embodiment of his ideals, in that he is giving himself freely to the whole community and doing what he can for the welfare of humanity.

FIGHTS CONSERVATISM

Dr. MacDonald continued by showing how closely some of Shaw's ideas are connected with those of Samuel Butler. Both of these men waged war upon convention. Their distates for the old, accepted conservative church and, in some cases, blood ties, is shown in similar outbursts. Hence, throughout Shaw's plays is seen the same spirit toward the old "blood-is-thicker-than-water" idea that Butler manifests in his work "The Way of All Flesh." That is the sympathy shown to the children of unsympathetic parents, who rebel against the yoke of the family.

In explaining Bernard Shaw's idea of God, Prof. MacDonald said that the playwright looked upon the Diety as the life-force, which is ever striving for the betterment of man.

In closing Dr. MacDonald pointed out the big-heartedness of George Bernard Shaw in forwarding the reputation of Samuel Butler and thereby unconsciously showing his own greatness.

Preceding the lecture, the secretary of the association read the financial statement for the past year, which showed: Income, including balance from last season of $94.93, $200.53; expenditure, $114.55; leaving a balance to the credit of the association of $85.97.

The officers of the committee were re-elected. Miss J. Cann occupied the chair and announced that the next lecture would be "China" by Dean R. W. Brock, to be held at Victoria College on November 4.

FILM INDUSTRY IS REVIVED

Los Angeles Seeking Information; Local Group to Aid Worsted Mill Project

A communication requesting information and containing suggestions of future film activity here was read from Los Angeles film interests at a meeting of the executive of the Industrial Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-day. The executive will endeavor to supply this information, but pending developments in connection with a previously organized campaign to establish a motion picture industry in Victoria, little of consequence can be accomplished, it was decided.

With information broadcast that a certain preference will be given to films manufactured on British soil and produced by British companies, it is believed that American interests are investigating possibilities in Canada.

WORSTED PROBLEM

With a view to assisting the city council in establishing a worsted industry in Victoria, the industrial committee executive is considering ways and means to carry out the work.

It was suggested to-day that a general meeting of the group be called at which this subject could be given thorough consideration and the whole matter explained. Discussion would benefit those concerned and bring the thing into proper light before the public, it was thought.

The group is actively working on various industrial projects.

ON THE BLOTTER

An old tabby cat got an unexpected treat this morning. She discovered a river of milk at the intersection of Runnymede Avenue and Foul Bay Road this morning. The old cat walked up to it and sniffed it, walked around it and finally into it, and lapped up the milk from the gutter in absolute content, undisturbed by the rumble of passing traffic.

How the milk got there the cat did not question. It was a mystery to her, perhaps. But not to Miss B. O'Keefe, driver of an automobile which collided with a milk delivery car, driven by V. Simpson. Miss O'Keefe saw the river of milk and the litter of broken bottles when she looked about her after the crash. Her companion, a lady, was slightly bruised with the shock of impact.

Chief of Detectives Harry O'Leary is back on the job again. He was confined to his bed with a slight illness up to a few days ago.

PARALYSIS BAN TO BE REMOVED SOON

Infantile paralysis is showing such a decrease in British Columbia now that the ban on school attendance in effect in Kelowna will be lifted shortly. Dr. H. E. Young, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, announced to-day.

"The situation has shown general improvement," Dr. Young said after he had received telegraphic advices from the interior of the Province. "Medical men in Kelowna, where schools were closed and children prevented from attending public gatherings, advise me that no new cases have appeared for some time and they recommend a lifting of the former ban. This will be done during the next few days if no further outbreak of the malady appears."

Girl Swallows Poison Potion

It was reported by the police today that a young girl yesterday swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid in an attempt to end her life. The girl was promptly treated and this morning had recoverd.

After careful examination of the circumstances leading up to the attempt of the girl to swallow the poison potion, the authorities arrived at the conclusion that the troubled condition of the girl's mind brought her to a state where she did not care to live. She will be carefully tended.

POPULAR MEMBERS OF ST. JOHN'S WED

At St. John's Church on Tuesday evening Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, assisted by Rev. M. Bruce, united in marriage Alexandra Victoria (Queenie) Graves, youngest daughter of Mrs. Graves and the late Mr. C. Graves of Cloverdale Avenue, to Mr. Stanley Cecil Hawkins, younger son of Mr. C. D. Hawkins and the late Mrs. Emily Hawkins of this city. Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Clifford Graves, the bride wore a wedding dress of white beaded georgette over white satin. Her veil, surmounted by a wreath of orange blossoms, was caught at the nape of the neck by a spray of blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

She was attended by Miss Ella Chafe, wearing a dress of peach-covered taffeta, with silver ribbon, and a hat of peach georgette to match. Her bouquet was of carnations and gladioli.

The little nieces of the bride, Sylvia Schofield in nile green satin with tulle hat to match, and Emily Aspinwall in mauve satin with tulle hat, were flower girls, both carrying pink and white asters. Mr. Archie Riddle supported the groom and the ushers were Mr. Reginald Graves and Mr. George Fox.

The church had been beautifully decorated by the evening branch of St. John's W.A., of which the bride was a popular member, the bridegroom being also prominent in the church activities.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 772 Cloverdale Avenue, where the newly-married couple received their numerous guests under an arch of dahlias, assisted by the bride's mother. During the evening Miss Lily Muir sang several charming solos.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins left by the night boat for Vancouver, where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's going-away costume was of powder-blue georgette, with hat en suite, and a moleskin coat, the gift of the groom.

Among the mank presents received was a handsome set of Rogers 1847 silver, the gift of the staff of the Provincial Department of Lands, where the groom has been employed for many years, also a cheque from Mr. Claude L. Harrison, the bride's late employer; a silver cake stand from the A.Y.P.A. of St. John's, a silver tea service from the choir and other members of St. John's, and a china tea service from the Girls' Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of the church.

Pulpwood Barge Lost in Storm

Montreal, Oct. 21 — The Canadian Government boat Detector was scouring the St. Lawrence River yesterday morning in search of the barge Lloyd Scott, loaded with 200 tons of pulpwood, which broke away from the wharf at Three Rivers, Que., late yesterday during a windstorm.

At 10.20 a.m., the Montreal office of the signal service reported that nothing had been seen of the barge. It was intimated that the barge had probably foundered, becoming a grave menace to navigation.

SEVEN DEEP SEA ARRIVALS ARE SCHEDULED HERE FROM WORLD PORTS DURING WEEK

Four Orient Vessels With Large Silk Cargoes Due Here in Succession During Next Four Days; New Furness Pacific Vessel Will Arrive Sunday From United Kingdom; Oklahoma Due

Victoria's deep sea shipping calendar for the next five days presages a busy time for the waterfront fraternity with at least seven vessels inbound and one outbound. The inbound vessels in order of arrival will be: Shidzuoka Maru, Empress of Canada, Pacific Reliance, President Madison, Oklahoma, Alabama Maru and Eemdyk.

Latest advices received by A. H. Hebb, local N.Y.K. agent, says the Shidzuoka Maru, Capt. S. Takeda, will arrive at William Head quarantine station at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. She will probably be up to the dock by 3.30 a.m.

The Shidzuoka is bringing a large silk cargo from the Orient, totaling 3,300 bales. Twenty-nine bales and cases of raw silk and silk goods will be discharged at this port. There are also forty-two tons of general cargo for discharge here. Her passenger list is small, their being ten first-class travelers and eight third for Seattle and one third for Victoria.

SILK SHIPMENT

A second large shipment of silk will pass through here Sunday when the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, Commander S. Robinson, arrives. Although no advices has been received from the Canada, it is thought she is running to schedule, and will arrive at William Head about 6 o'clock Sunday morning. The vessel has a large cargo and a fair passenger list.

An arrival which will attract a large number of the shipping fraternity to the Outer Docks will be the arrival Sunday of the Furness (Pacific) Limited motorship Pacific Reliance, the first of the new Furness vessels to be put on the North Pacific run.

RELIANCE DUE SUNDAY

The Reliance left San Francisco for this port at 2 p.m. yesterday, and is expected Sunday morning. She has general cargo for discharge here before proceeding to Vancouver.

The new Furness vessels are said to be of excellent type and their arrival has been eagerly anticipated by local shippers.

The Dollar liner President Madison in command of Capt. T. P. "Fairweather" Quinn will be an early Monday arrival, arriving at William Head quarantine station at 6 a.m.

The Madison will bring through this port the third large silk shipment in three days, her cargo holds containing nearly $2,000,000 of the manufactured and raw product. She also has 632 tons of wood oil, 314 tons of cocoanut oil, 2,000 bags of mail and 180 passengers. She has nearly 300 tons of cargo for Victoria discharge.

FRENCH LINE SHIPS

Tuesday the O.S.K. liner Alamaba Maru and the French line vessel Oklahoma are expected.

The Alabama, from the Orient, is bringing sixteen passengers and fifty tons of cargo for this port. She has also four first-class passangers and twelve third for Seattle besides a heavy cargo, including a large shipment of raw silk.

No definite advices have been received on the Oklahoma. She has 300 tons of cargo for discharge here and is scheduled to arrive some time Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Holland-American liner Eemdyk is expected from the United Kingdom continental ports with 200 tons of cargo for discharge.

NICOLINE MAERSK

There is also the arrival this evening of the freighter Nicoline Maersk which will go into drydock at the new Esquimalt basin for overhauling and repairs.

Sailings include the freighter Ethelwolfe which will clear this evening for Vancouver to complete her lumber cargo for the Orient. She has loaded 800,000 feet here.

The Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise liner Ruth Alexander will sail at 9 a.m. Sunday for San Francisco and other California ports. The Ruth arrived here last night at 11 o'clock from the South with a large list. Forty passengers disembarked here and 250 tons of cargo were discharged.

NAVY LEAGUE HEAD HERE IS RE-ELECTED

Major W. H. Langley Remains at Helm of Vancouver Island Branch

Major W. H. Langley was last night re-elected to the presidency of the Vancouver Island Branch of the Navy League at the annual meeting of that body. Other officers elected were: Major W. Layard, O.B.E., vice-president, and Jack Langley, treasurer.

The Dominion Council of the league was criticized in a resolution adopted by the meeting protesting the lack of action on the subject of Canada's share in the naval defence of the Empire.

This resolution, which was introduced after Mrs. S. W. Raven had reported on the ninth annual meeting of the council in Calgary last May, was worded as follows:

"Resolved, that the report of Mrs. S. W. Raven upon her attendance at the Dominion Council in May last be adopted; resolved, further, upon the consideration of such report that this meeting regrets that beyond an expression of the intention of a vigorous educational campaign no action whatsoever was taken at the Dominion Council meeting upon the important and pressing subject of Canada's share in the naval defence of the Empire and that no indication of any definite policy has therefore been forthcoming as a guide to the supporters of the league throughout the Dominion."

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

In his address President Langley reviewed the activities of the Island division during the last year, and the prospects and plans for the future. The tour of the Victoria Sea Cadets Band through Canada and England was just touched upon; it was noted that sixty-two new members had been enrolled during the year between Nanaimo, Parksville and Alberni. The Victoria Sea Cadet Corps, "the mainspring of the organization here," was cited as having a strength of thirty-six of all ratings, "kept together under somewhat adverse conditions by the loyal, faithful and efficient service of its present commanding officer, Lieut. P. W. Tribe." The corps during its existence had sent sixty-two boys to sea, thirty of whom had been apprenticed and the remainder sent as deck boys, while it had also placed about thirty boys in shore occupations. Within the last few months one cadet had been apprenticed and another had taken out his second mate's papers. The whole Sea Cadet Corps of the Navy League had been thoroughly reorganized by and under the supervision of Admiral W. O. Story, C.B.E., and a complete set of rules and regulations issued with the approval of the Dominion Council.

SEA CADETS BAND

In explanation of the disbanding last month of the Sea Cadets Band here, Major Langley pointed out that according to the rules and regulation of the Dominion Council, already referred to, it was required that before a boy joined the band he must drill with the Sea Cadet Corps for at least one month.

The latter part of the president's address was occupied with the discussion of future policy, and here he emphasized that the building up of the Sea Cadet Corps should be the chief activity, not only the Victoria Corps already in existence, but that an effort should be made to establish subdivisions at some other points on the Island and the Gulf Islands. It had been urged that the opportunities were not as frequent as they might be for sending boys to sea. Even if true at present, it would not always be so; moreover, it was not necessary for a boy to express any intention of going to sea in order to qualify for the corps.

A canvass had shown that a large percentage of the cadets did not wish a maritime career, but everyone would concede the great advantage to boys they received, sufficient reasons for giving the work unqualified support, of the training and discipline which The best kind of publicity work for the Navy League was a parade through the streets of these lads, with, perhaps, a fife and drum band at their head.

SUITABLE QUARTERS

In this connection Major Langley stressed the need of securing suitable quarters for the Sea Cadet Corps, somewhere on the waterfront if possible, with boats for their use. The matter of a band should be a secondary consideration; in the past it had been altogether too much to the fore, and had obscured the practical and working part of the corps.

An appeal was made for every possible assistance to be given to the Dominion organizer, Captain Morris, on his arrival here next month from Toronto. Captain Morris's successful record in enlisting members in Vancouver, Calgary and other places last year was referred to.

FINANCIAL REPORT

A balance on hand of $286.99 was shown in the audited financial report of the division.

General conditions in the division were discussed, it being announced that efforts would be made to organize this year at Nanaimo, Duncan, Ganges or Salt Spring and other points.

New Matson Liner Completes Trial

Seattle, Oct. 21.—After being under construction for more than two years, the new Matson passenger liner Malolo completed her trial trip Wednesday, according to telegraphic advices received from E. D. Tenney, chairman of the board of directors of the Matson Navigation Company.

The message from Mr. Tenney, who was aboard the Malolo during the trip, reads as follows:

"Malolo has concluded all manoeuvring, speed and other tests, including forty-hour continuous endurance run, developing 25,000 horse-power, corresponding to twenty-two knots, on ten of the ship's twelve boilers, indicating twenty per cent. reserve power. Every contract condition fully met. Ship functioning 100 per cent. in all departments."

C.P.R. Director Coming to Coast

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 21.—One of the leading financial men from England in the person of E. R. Peacock, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and former Canadian, will arrive in the city to-morrow on C.P.R. Train No. 1 at 8 a.m. Mr. Peacock, who is accompanied by his wife, will remain at the Coast until October 27. En route to the coast Mr. and Mrs. Peacock stopped off a day at Banff.

C.N.R. EARNINGS

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways, including the Central Vermont Railway, but excluding all lines in Canada east of Levis and Diamond Junction, for the week ended October 7, 1927, were: $5,281,433, as compared with $5,586,055.50 for the same week of 1926, a decrease of $304,622.50, or five per cent.

WHY DOES A WIDOW?

Co-optimist Comedy Co. at Crystal Garden to-night in witty one-act play.

Just why three men should fall in love with a widow and leave her unattached sister severely alone, and just how three men can manage to get themselves so hopelessly tangled—all in the space of sixty minutes—is the plot of one of the cleverest comedy sketches of the Co-optimist Company to be presented at the Crystal Garden to-night. Playgoers will find this a capital bill, as the dialogue in the play is well above the average standard of farce, and the situations are extraordinarily funny. Those taking part are Mrs. P. E. Corby, Miss Clare Vincent and Mrs. Legge-Willis. Messrs. L. L. Phillips, Richard Blomfield and Legge-Willis.

The Crystal Garden Concert orchestra will contribute several selections from some of the musical comedies now running in New York and London. After the performance the audience is invited to adjourn to the south ballroom, where dancing will continue until midnight.

Concert tickets for a limited number of reserved seats may be obtained at the Crystal Garden box office any time to-day.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide add 30 feet to the height of high water as given above.

SYMBOLIC STORY OF CHAPLIN OFFERED ON COLISEUM SCREEN

"The Gold Rush," Charlie Chaplin's screen feature at the Coliseum Theatre under a United Artists Corporation release, is a symbolical autobiography by Chaplin himself.

With that genius which is peculiarly his own, and against the background of old Klondike gold rush days of Chaplinesque conception, the greatest screen-comedian has depicted with subtly tender and delicate masterstrokes the struggle of man's eternal hunt for happiness, its heartbreaks and tears and its laughter and joy.

Charlie Chaplin of the derby, cane, baggy trousers, funny mustache and waddling walk who has made the whole world laugh more than any other mere comedian that ever lived, has built in "The Gold Rush" a delightful structure of fun and laughter.

On the tragedy and misery suffered by the pioneers who first journeyed to the ice-bound Alaska, and on the drama of the soul sufferings of the sourdough who braved mountains, ice, snow and starvation and death in their mad rush for gold, Chaplin has built the funniest and most hilarious comedy of his career.

COMEDY AND THRILLS IN FILM FEATURES ON PLAYHOUSE BILL

How would you like to spend the night in "The Haunted House?" That's what the two tramps in "Hits and Bits from Everywhere," the big revue at the Playhouse Theatre this week, had to do. The "Cat and the Canary" is a catastrophe beside this thriller on the screen.

Lewis Stone refuses to fight a duel under a live oak tree for one picture, and make love under the same tree for another!

Four years had elapsed when chance and a motion picture "location scout" brought Stone back to the identical tree under which he had fought a duel in "Scaramouche." He recognized the spot when about to film the modern scene, which was for First National's current attraction at the Playhouse Theatre, "Lonesome Ladies."

Needless to say, the company moved on to seek a no less artistic but more unfamiliar location. Stone is featured with Anna Q. Nilsson in "Lonesome Ladies," a peppy modern comedy-drama of married life, produced by Ray Rockett and directed by Joseph Henaberry.

GEORGE O'BRIEN AND EDMUND LOWE IN COLUMBIA PICTURE

The handsome George O'Brien, star of half a dozen Fox Films successes, and Edmund Lowe, fresh from his great triumph in the role of Sergeant Quirt in "What Price Glory," are a team of male stars hard to surpass in audience popularity. So it goes without saying that if, "Is Zat So?" their picture in which they appear together had nothing else to recommend it, the film would be worth going to see. But these two, playing the roles of a prize fighter and his manager, the former by O'Brien and the latter by Lowe, are in the screen version of a play that sent blase Broadway audiences into roars of laughter. Yesterday at the Columbia Theatre where "Is Zat So?" had its first showing it also set the audience into peals of hearty laughter.

TERRORS OF JUNGLE SHOWN ON SCREEN AT THE DOMINION

In the jungles of Northern Siam, tigers are believed to be the guardians of departed spirits. The spirits travel about in tigers, according to superstition. As a result, hundreds of natives are killed each year because they're afraid to kill the beasts. Often they attack domestic animals on the edge of a village and lie in wait for unwary men.

Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack discovered this soon after their arrival in Siam for the purpose of producing "Chang," Paramount's jungle melodrama, which plays at the Dominion Theatre all this week. In their film venture, encounters with the wildest animals were frequent and at times it became necessary to shoot in self-preservation.

Before shooting, Mr. Copper would make a speech to his retainer, beginning: "On my shoulders be it . . ." Even this assumption of responsibility did not entirely remove their fears.

After each killing the natives dismembered the animals, carefully removed their whiskers, which they use as charms and boiled the bones for medicine. No native family is considered safe without a receptacle containing essence of tiger bones.

RICHARD DIX READS MAIL WHILE DRIVING TRACTOR

Richard Dix's mail has caught up with him, and he has been the busiest man in the States ever since. Two weeks after his recent arrival at the Paramount West Coast Studio a half-ton truck departed for the Los Angeles postoffice piled high with sacks. This was on a Monday. The following Wednesday another truck went out and a group of harassed clerks heaved collective sighs of relief.

When it was all delivered to Dix's new dressing-room the star gasped. He worked over it while practicing the difficult art of driving a tractor in preparation for his latest picture, "Man Power," at the Capitol Theatre all his week. Mary Brian and Philip Strange head the supporting cast. Clarence Badger directed.

TRAINED MULE TO APPEAR AT CITY TEMPLE'S CIRCUS

A trained mule for the City Temple Fair and Circus is on his way here from Mount Vernon, Indiana. Capt. Trueblood sent for this mule to augment the performance in connection with the City Temple circus which is to be held at the Armories on November 30 and December 1, 2 and 3.

An incident of interest occurred in connection with Capt. Trueblood's show this Fall at Lethbridge. When the train was loaded at Lethbridge and ready to leave for Cranbrook the captain noticed a dog on the train that did not belong to the show. He chased the dog off and much to his surprise when the train reached Cranbrook the next morning, the canine was discovered riding on the vestibule of one of the sleepers. Trueblood says, "If you are so anxious to troupe you can stay with it." Accordingly he took the animal into Winter quarters when the show closed.

One day when they were not busy he took the dog out to see if he could do anything. There was a tightwire rigging set up and the dog ran up the ladder and walked the wire. Needless to say this little animal now has a good home and he will perform at the City Temple circus.

WESTERN CASH GRAIN PRICES UNDER REVIEW

Coast Quotations Lower Than Winnipeg, and Permits Are Restrictive, it is Said

Western Mayors Draw Committees to Study Questions and Bring in Report

Asking for an investigation by mainland delegates to the Western Mayors Conference into the grain handling situation at Vancouver, Mayr J. A. Gregory declared present conditions were hurting the westward flow of grain, as seen from the Prairie viewpoint in continuing his address at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The cash prices for grain at Vancouver had been outline seriously at times during the present season, he asserted. In some cases there was as great a difference as five cents a bushel between the Winnipeg and Vancouver quotations. Vancouver figures were not shown in the Dominin daily report bulletins, where it was stated that "no figures were received."

In spite of the fact that Vancouver had storage capacity for over 7,000,000 bushels of grain, only 1,000,000 bushels had been shipped to the port since the first of August, and none at all to Prince Rupert, he had been given to understand. The permit system was still in force, even though the port suffered for lack of grain and ships were close in calling in consequence.

The Prairies had every desire to send their wheat west when the prices were right, but present conditions were not conducive to good trade, he repeated.

The need f good roads as a link between communities were dealt with in a clear cut address by Mayor H. F. McKinnon, Revelstoke. The farmer, motorist and tourist depended on good roads, and roads in turn led to closer understanding between Provinces and communities, making for better trade and better feeling all round.

A fifty-five mile gap prevents the connection by road of British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces, said Mr. McKinnon of which thirty-five miles was in national parks and the balance in unorganized territories. At least a wagon road from east to west should be established without delay, he believed.

The utilization of waste products of present industries by the research and laboratory method, equalization of freight rates on grain, and other points of common interest to Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, kere touched upon by speakers at the afternoon session. Mayr Newton, Prince Rupert, contributed much to the discussion by outlining the situation in the North and the desire for closer co-operation with the Prairie Provinces.

A committee was formed to study this and other subjects, composed of Mayor Hardie, Lethbridge; ex-Mayor R. H. Gale, Vancouver; Mayor Newton, Prince Rupert; Deputy Mayor Farmile, Edmonton; Norman McLean, Vancouver Associated Property Owners; and Reeve Vinson, West Vancouver. Resolutions were useless, decided the conference, deciding to study the questions brought up by the committee route for report later.

Commenting upon the City of Vancouver luncheon at the Crystal Garden yesterday Mayor J. C. Pendray tendered cordial thanks to Mayor Taylor for the thought which prompted the entertainment in support of the plans of the host city, and described the incident as one indicative of the friendly feeling that was growing up between Vancouver and Victoria. He was confident that feeling would grow, and would be warmly reciprocated by Victoria. Both cities had much to gain as allies, he concluded. Mayor Taylor presided at the luncheon.

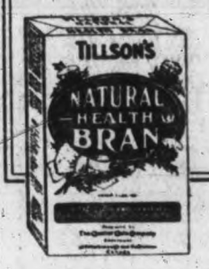

Musicians Unable To Play in Theatre

Calgary, Oct. 21.—That they are the innocent victims of an incident which happened during the 1926 engagement of the Australian Band at Rochester, N.Y., is the statement which was made here by three musicians who stayed behind on the departure of the band at the close of the 1927 tour in September. They are Tom Bollen of Adelaide, Harry Mayfield of Sydney and Clarry Collins of Melbourne, soloists. With the intention of residing in Canada, they resigned from the Australian Band during August and, being members of the Australian Musicians' Union; they expected no trouble in joining the Canadian Musicians' Union. But to their surprise their applications were refused by union officials in New York. As a consequence they can not now be employed in the local theatre where they have engagements, except as soloists, because of an agreement between the theatre and the United States-controlled union. Otherwise they would be added to a local symphony orchestra, the manager explains.

SIGN BY-LAW OF OAK BAY STANDS

Protests of Real Estate Man Fall on Unheeding Ears; Clerk Reports Convention

The Oak Bay sign by-law stands as it is, according to a decision of the council last night, after hearing pleas from real estate representatives for augmentation of the size of signs.

Victoria Real Estate Board representatives claimed the best standard signs were slightly larger than those allowed by the by-law. Two or three firms with signs which exceeded those designated were mentioned, and it was declared considerable expense would be entailed in replacing these with smaller signs.

E. T. Yarwood suggested a subdivision sign should be provided for in the by-law. These could carry maps and be used for only a short time, after which they would be taken down. He also protested the small size of the regular signs.

On a motion by Councillor Mearns, it was decided the matter was closed. R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, reported to the council that six of the eight resolutions put forward by the municipality were approved by the municipalities convention at Nanaimo this week. The amending of the Hospital Act, a sore point to Oak Bay, will not be sought for another year, he reported, while the Oak Bay resolution on the investment of revenue was withdrawn after an objection had been raised.

UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS MEET

Hear Interesting Account of Coming of Old Eastern Family to Canada

Before a very large gathering of the United Empire Loyalists at the Alexandra Club rooms last evening, J. F. Armstrong gave an interesting account of the Loyalists in the province of Quebec. Mr. Armstrong's great grandfather, Jesse Armstrong, came to Canada after the American revolution, and established himself at Sorel. The petition presented by him to the governor of Lower Canada in 1802, asking for a grant of land, is still in the family's possession. Among the interesting documents which Mr. Armstrong showed to the association last evening was the original copy of the appointment of Edward Armstrong as harbor master of Montreal in 1832.

The Armstrongs were a very large family and have many descendants in Canada. Mr. Armstrong's father held the seigneury of Sorel, and Mr. Armstrong's wife was a Miss Oliver. Her grandfather was the first member of the Legislative Assembly in the province of Quebec. Her uncle held a similar position up to the time of Confederation.

Rev. Mr. Dean, in moving the vote of thanks to Mr. Armstrong, pointed out that his talk was particularly interesting coming as it did so soon after the speech by Mr. Bourassa. Both Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Armstrong had stated that the French in Canada did not think it was necessary to stress the need of immigration to this country, as the French people of Quebec fully expected that in fifty years they would have so increased the population of the Dominion that there would be no lack of settlers.

The next meeting of the United Empire Loyalists will be on November 17 in the library of the Parliamen Buildings, when a constitution and by-laws will be drawn up and officers appointed. The membership of the association in Victoria now numbers nearly one hundred.

Provincial Baseball Leaders Want Line On "Irregularities"

Stan Smith, Secretary of B.C. A.B.A., Wires For Information on Troubles

Investigation Started By Amateur Union Here Now Attracts Others

When the heads of the local branch of the Amateur Athletic Union began nosing into "irregularities" in the amateur baseball life of this city, they put another hound on the trail. The B.C. Amateur Baseball Association has now joined the hunt and wants to know what's up, where and why.

Stan Smith, secretary of the B.C. A.B.A., got wind of the trouble here and yesterday wired Matt Hunter, president of the local baseball league, for further information. The B.C.A.B.A. wants to get a cross-section of the playing of two unregistered players by the Sons of Canada in the British Columbia play-off games between the Sons and Burnaby.

SHORT HANDED

The Sons of Canada entered the play-off with just enough men to fill out nine uniforms and they wanted a couple of extras for a little batting practice before the game in Vancouver. They picked up a pair of ball players, who, by the way, were pretty close to being the best two in the league, and took them to Vancouver. When the game started one of the two men, appearing under an assumed name, was announced as the pitcher. The other played as an outfielder, also under an assumed name.

The two players in question were registered with the B.C.A.B.A., but with another club. The Sons were anxious to prevent the series with Burnaby from being a runaway, so used the two players in question. The funny part of it all is that when they were strengthened by these two players they were badly beaten, while in the second game here, in which the two players were not used, they were only defeated by one run in a hard-hitting game.

ANSWER WIRED

President Hunter has wired his answer to Secretary Smith and on it will depend the action to be taken by the B.C.A.B.A. A meeting will no doubt be called and the whole matter thoroughly discussed, after which sentence, if any, will be imposed.

Although most ball players and officials of the local league knew that the Sons had committed the indiscretion, nothing official became of the thing until the local branch of the B.C.A.A.U. began stirring around. The amateur union heads were interested in the matters because one of their rules prohibit any registered amateur from appearing under an assumed name.

The amateur union is also investigating the infringement of another rule, which also involves the Sons of Canada. The Victoria Amateur Baseball League has been asked by the amateur union to answer certain facts in connection with the playing of professionals in an exhibition ball game between the Sons of Canada and the Old-timers. The Baseball League has sent in an answer and, it is understood, has declined to accept any responsibility for the game, which means that the onus had been shifted on to the Sons of Canada.

It appears now that instead of one professional golfer appearing in the game, there were two.

Both these questions will possibly be aired in Vancouver on Saturday night, when the B.C.A.A.U. meets in annual session.

OF VITAL INTEREST

The questions are of vital interest to local sport, as, although only two players are directly involved in both cases, many other athletes are affected. In the case of the amateur baseball game, all the athletes that appeared in that game suffered automatic suspension for appearing with the professionals. Since that time some of these players have appeared in Canadian rugby games and others are applying for registration in basketball and other sports.

Much interest is being taken in the case and the amateur union officials are having a merry time answering questions. This is the time when the amateur heads find out just how popular their positions are.

GOODSELL ACCEPTS BARRY'S CHALLENGE

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—Bert Barry, English oarsman who was unsuccessful in his attempt to wrest the world's professional sculling title from Major Goodsell on Burrard Inlet Labor Day, will be given another shot at the title. His challenge, which was supported by a deposit of $500 to bind the match, has been accepted by the champion.

Pending a conference with his backers, however, Goodsell will not agree to a date, but that suggested to Barry, May 24, will probably be when the race will take place. The oarsmen will row over the same course as Labor Day.

Under the rules of the Sydney Referee, Goodsell has three months in which to accept the challenge. After that he is allowed six months in which to row. Goodsell plans to start training for the event early in April.

Victoria Ruggers Out to Hit Stride And Beat Vancouver

Vancouver Team Here For Game in "Big Four League", To-morrow Afternoon

Great Struggle Expected; Three Intermediate League Games on Schedule

Victoria's champion Canadian ruggers will play their second home game of the season at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. While they are playing the intermediate ruggers will be demonstarting the English code of rugby on their playing fields.

The rugby attractions are as follows:

"BIG FOUR" CANADIAN RUGBY

Victoria vs. Vancouver at the Royal Athletic Park.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Brentwood College vs. Victoria College at Brentwood.

Normal School vs. Canadian Scottish at Cranmore Road.

University School vs. Wanderers at Mt. Tolmie.

WANT TO DO BETTER

The "Big Four" game promises to be a tartar from start to finish. The locals will endeavor to get back into their stride and repulse Vancouver. The locals have already played three games, half their schedule, and have a win, a draw and a loss in their books. The win was scored by a wide margin, the loss by the margin of one point, while in the draw the locals should have taken the points. However, the boys are not quite satisfied with their form of late. They have lacked a little on the defensive, and have not made the yardage they would have liked in their line-plunging. Coach Ernie Cook has been experimenting with the team this week, and the new plays to be introduced to-morrow will probably see the team back in its old stride.

Victoria now hold the championship of British Columbia and are anxious to again annex the honor. They have, however, to mount some formidable obstacles before they reach the peak. The Varsity team, which squeezed through to a one-point victory here two weeks ago, are going great guns and are to be feared, while Vancouver, since the return of two of their old reliables, are fit for the hardest kind of going.

FULL OF ACTION

The game here to-morrow promises to be full of action. Both teams possess fast backfields, and their lines are husky and strike hard. It is expected that another big crowd will be on hand. The ground is in fine shape and thrills galore should be provided.

Victoria is counting on Gordie Fraser and Horne to help them over Vancouver to-morrow. The final selection of the team will be made to-night.

The Oak Bay Wanderers will field a team for the first time this season in the Intermediate League. The league had only five teams until this week when the Wanderers decided to get together once again.

The tussle between Brentwood College, last year's champions, and Victoria College, runners-up, promises to be a sterling affair, and some good rugby should be seen.

The Wanderers will line up as follows:

Eagle, Hayward, McConnan, Radford, Usher, Williams, Campbell, Symons, Brandon, Briggs, Cooper, Curran, Kirby, Miller, Pease, Robertson, Senkler, Sherwood and Smith.

The intermediate games will start at 3 o'clock.

Four Top Teams In First Division Battle To-morrow

Thistles Must Down City to Retain Undisputed Lead in Senior Soccer

Wests to Meet Strengthened Esquimalt Eleven; Full Card of Junior Matches

To-morrow will witness a battle for soccer supremacy in the First Division. The four leading clubs are slated to meet one another, and at the finish there will likely be a shake-up in the league standing. With four straight victories to their credit the Saanich Thistles are sole occupants of the premier position. Keeping close behind them are the Victoria Wests and Victoria City with three wins and one defeat. Esquimalt in fourth place have two victories and two losses.

To-morrow's matches are as follows:

Victoria City vs. Saanich Thistles, at Central Park. Referee, McMillan.

Victoria Wests vs. Esquimalt, at Beacon Hill, lower ground. Referee, Saunders.

Sixteenth Canadian Scottish vs. Five C's, at Beacon Hill, upper ground. Referee, Oliver.

All matches will start at 3 o'clock.

Saanich Thistles should find strong opposition in Victoria City. Last week the league leaders disposed of Esquimalt, last year's champion, after putting up a finished display. Playing their second season in First Division company, the Thistles are proving a sensation. The City will summons the best players available in the hope of sending the Thistles down to their first defeat. The City have been weakened somewhat of late. They have lost Herb. Cummins, their star outside right, who, it is rumored, will soon be playing with the Saanich Thistles.

Esquimalt will present a strengthened line-up against the Victoria Wests at Beacon Hill. Tom Watt, their regular centre forward for several seasons, has returned to the city and will be out with his old teammates again. With Watt the the pivot position the Esquimalt line will be given better leadership. Watt is a great goal-getter and may give the Dockers the punch they have been lacking this season.

The Wests will trot out their usual team which has been winning games for them right along. With a number of youngsters included on their line-up this year the greenshirts are making a fine showing.

In the ther match at Beacon Hill the two tail-end clubs, the Five C's and Canadian Scottish, will meet. To date neither of these teams has chalked up a victory or a draw, but to-morrow one or both will get their first points on the right side of the board.

Two games will be played to-morrow in the Junior League. The draw is as follows:

James Island vs Bapcos, at James Island.

Y.M.C.A. vs Esquimalt, at Central Park.

Six matches are scheduled in the Juvenile Football League. The game that is drawing the greatest interest is the one between the Five C's and Royal Oak, at Beacon Hill, commencing at 1.30 o'clock. These teams have played in three games, and each has as many victories to their credit.

The schedule for to-morrow is as follows:

DIVISION 1

Five C's vs. Royal Oak, at Heywood Avenue, Beacon Hill. Referee, Proven.

Esquimalt vs. Saanich Rovers, at Victoria West Park. Referee, McKay.

Tillicums vs. James Bay, at Central Park. Referee, Woodley.

DIVISION 2

Five C's vs. Saanich Rovers, at Heywood Avenue, starting 11 a.m. Referee, Henderson.

Fairfield vs. Oak Bay Oaks, upper Beacon Hill, starting 11 a.m. Referee, Woodley.

DIVISION 3

Saanich Rovers vs. Five C's, Central Park, starting 11 a.m. Referee, Coxworth.

To-morrow's teams will be as follows:

Victoria City — Rogers, Campbell, Glancy, G. Preston, B. Preston, Bowman, Kelman, A. Campbell, Southern, Bissell and Belford. Players are requested to meet at the Veterans of France clubrooms at 2.30 o'clock.

Canadian Scottish—Mathews, Harwood, Carmichael, Wilkinson, Wooldridge, Carter, Pixton, Stuart, Obee, Carey and Clarkson.

Burnside Tillicums — T. Spencer, Watson, Glenny, G. Legett, G. Scott, C. Jaffray, J. Robertson, J. Coxworth, L. Bapty, Stofer, Sholdice and Randall. Reserves, D. Blakey, Mowat and Blakey.

Esquimalt Juveniles—DeCosta, Anderson, I. Wallace, Collings, N. Wallace, McLean, Wright, Stewart, Hicks, Warder and Evans. Reserves, Graw, Marsh and Brien.

Saanich Rovers, under thirteen years —Lasay, Kerchin, Himothy, Clark, Bailey, Hetherington, Casillo, Okomoto, Porter, Ward, Brown, Stirrups and Scoular.

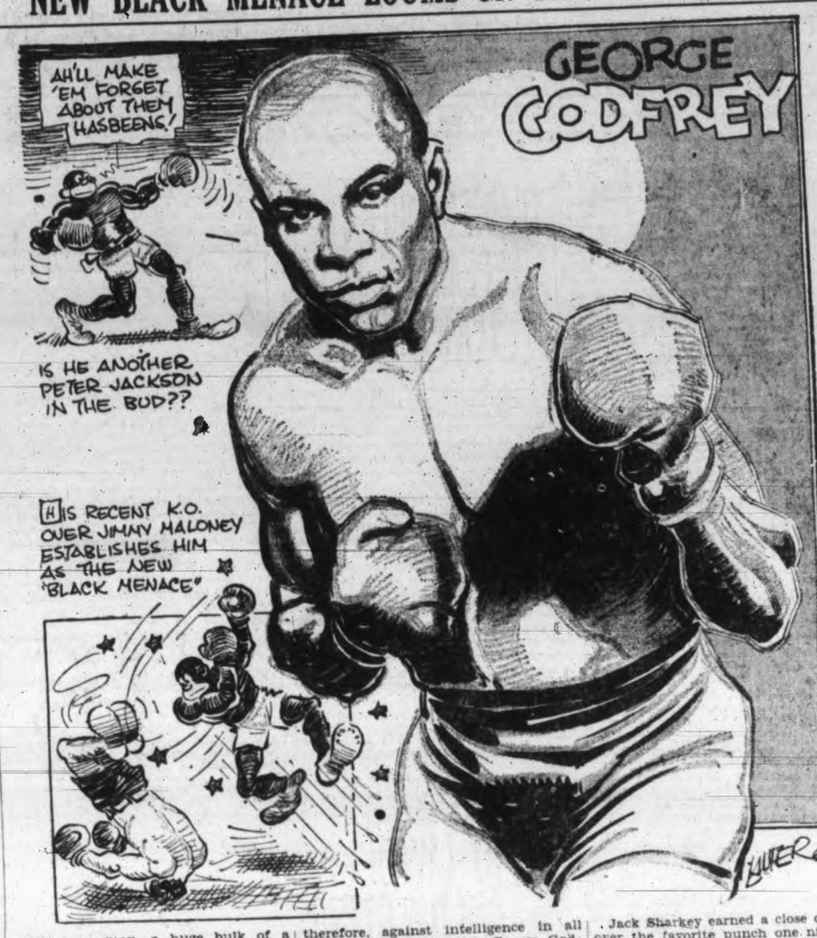

Saanich Rovers, under fifteen years —Baxter, Scoular, Pierce, Pauver, Gager, Kennedy, Rosemus, Winters, Mallett, Smith, Sage, Johnston and Addison.

Esquimalt Juniors — McVane, Sweeney Thompson, Smith, Banks, Vickers, Nicol, Smith, Stewart, Hicks and Bain.

"Dick" Williams Here On His Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. R. "Dick" Williams of North Vancouver are here on their honeymoon to-day. They were married on the Mainland yesterday. Mr. Williams is a member of the St. Andrew's football team in Vancouver and went to New Zealand with the Canadian footballers last Summer. Williams is a fine player and made a great name for himself in New Zealand.

NEW BLACK MENACE LOOMS ON FISTIC HORIZON

Picture a man, a huge bulk of a man with skin like cocoa that has had an extra dash of cream added, a chest as round as a keg of beer, and a head, a head like an egg—a chocolate Easter egg.

That man is George Godfrey.

He is a quiet voiced, merry gentleman with a rollicking disposition, a wide ivory smile, utterly unlike anything resembling a "black menace."

To-day he is a potential box office attraction. He is the self-styled colored heavyweight champion of the world. He is a successor to that gallant lineage, Peter Jackson, Sam Langford, Joe Walcott, Joe Jeannette, Jack Johnson and Harry Wills.

Few know that George Godfrey is not George Godfrey. Neither is he three Hawaiians.

"My real name is Feab, sir—Feab Sylvester Williams."

Somehow you can judge a man easier listening to him talk. Feab Sylvester Williams, you gather, after a conversation, is no mug. He is well mannered and dangerously intelligent.

Now, in this Tunneyesque era, many fans have contended that brains and boxing are dull combinations. They like their fighters in the raw. They like men who can catch and throw punches with equal alacrity and who bleed nice and easily. So they are, therefore, against intelligence in all and any form, and wish George Godfrey would not be so painstaking in his choice of words, selection of the proper utensils at dinner and customer of the conservative tailer he all so evidently patronizes.

HIS CAREER

"I was born in Mobile, Ala., sir. A fine country, sir. A great city. I was born on January 25, 1901, and my mammy says I was the biggest baby she ever did see, so I guess it was just natural that I turned to boxing for a living.

"I began my career in 1919 when I knocked out Eddie Jamison in one round. I had four contests in 1922 and won all of them, four by knockouts. In 1923 I knocked out Bill Tate in eight, Battling Jones in six and K. O. Godan in two.

"Then I led with my chin against Jack Renault," he grinned widely, "and was clipped in the eleventh round."

In the next three years he flattened Fred Fulton, Tut Jackson, avenged a defeat by Renault in eight rounds, outpointed Marty Burke twice and took Sully Montgomery, Tiny Herman and Bob Lawson.

"My favorite punch, sir, is a left hook. I stands like this, shift one step and wham—let's 'em have it in the stomach."

Jack Sharkey earned a close decision over the favorite punch one night up in Boston, but said afterwards that "nobody, ever nailed me as hard as this guy Godfrey," which is no faint praise if you know your Sharkey.

Godfrey is inclined "to fatten like a hog," as Manager Jimmy Dougherty, quaintly termed the Baron of Leiperville, complains. His best scaling is 220 and he is six feet one inch. That makes him look like a mountainous chocolate sundae.

LIKE A BALLOON

Every time Godfrey gets in a ring someone asks to know when the balloon is going up. The last two times the only thing to go up were the pantaloons of the opposition. They described a complete parabola and plopped on the canvas with great eclat still enclosing the customary portion of the anatomy that ordinarily belonged on the corner stool.

He knocked Monie Munn, former Nebraska football star, for a field goal in the fourth, and pasted Jim Maloney's chin while the opening gong echoes were still ringing.

Some experts contend he is the coming champion. Others maintain the two gentlemen he knocked down had hinges for knees anyway and that Mr. Godfrey would probably be doing the right thing by himself if he gave up boxing and took in washing.

Time alone will tell.

CAPABLANCA PLAYS ANOTHER DRAW WITH RUSSIAN RIVAL

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 21.—The eighteenth game for the world's chess championship between Jose Capablanca, of Havana, defending titleholder, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, ended in a draw last night after twenty-eight moves had been made. Alekhine still leads with three victories, while Capablanca has captured two games and thirteen have been drawn. The nineteenth game will be played to-morrow.

London, Oct. 21.—Three adjourned games were played off in the international chess tournament at the British Empire Club last night. Dr. M. Vidmare, of Jugoslavia, defeated V. Burger, England, and tied Marshall, the United States champion, for second place.

The summaries:

Fourth round—Yates, England, lost to Bogolojubow, Germany, in a Ruy Lopez after seventy-nine moves.

Seventh round—Burger, England, lost to Vidmar, Jugoslavia, in a queen's gambit declined after sixty-thre moves.

Eighth round—Colle, England, drew with Bogolojubow, Germany, in a queen's pawn opening after seventy-six moves.

Leo Flynn Will Not Handle Dempsey in Any Further Fights

New York, Oct. 21.—In a letter to The New York American, printed to-day, Jack Dempsey indicates that his connections with Leo P. Flynn, who directed him through the fights with Jack Sharkey and Gene Tunney, are at an end.

In regard to his connections with Flynn, Dempsey is quoted as follows: "Leo P. Flynn is all right. However, I only employed him for two fights. He's got a lot of business of his own to look after without handling me."

It seems their was once a Scottish gentleman who went up to a bookie and said, "I want to bet $10 on the winner of the next race."

McTigue, Again in Good Standing, Has Three Main Bouts

Former Lightheavyweight Champion to Fight Gaines, Walker and Slattery

New York, Oct. 21.—Mike McTigue, recently shorn of his heavyweight title recognition here by Tommy Loughran, yesterday made his peace with the National Boxing Association and paved the way for another "shot" at the 175-pound honors.

McTigue's suspension by the N.B.A. for failure to fulfill a contract to box Larry Gaines, at Toronto, was lifted by Thomas E. Donohue, president of the N.B.A. after the veteran boxer, through his manager, Tommy Johnson, agreed to meet Gaines in the Canadian city between November 10 and 20.

At the same time the McTigue challenge for a match with Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, recognized light heavyweight champion by the N.B.A., was accepted by Donohue.

Lifting of McTigue's suspension, Donohue says, clears the last obstacle to his scheduled match with Mickey Walker, middleweight champion.

THIRTY TEAMS WILL COMPETE IN SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Thirty teams will compete in the Sunday School Basketball League this Winter. At a meeting of the league executive, held last night, the season's schedule was drawn up and arrangements made for the opening of the season, which will take place next week.

Officials are looking forward to one of the most successful seasons in the history of the league.

The Sunday school body will operate the following leagues:

Senior men and ladies.

Intermediate "A" and "B" men.

Junior boys and girls.

Breaks Course Mark

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—The difficult par of 72 for the new C.P.R. Company's golf course "Langara" at South Vancouver, which since the opening of the course in June, 1926, has defied the leading amateurs and professional, including Walter Hagen, received a shock yesterday afternoon when Billie Barr, professional to the Glen Oaks Club, turned in a sparkling 70, which included five birdies. The course, which is of the finest on the North American continent, is heavily bunkered round the greens and requires great care in approaching.

VICTORY FOR 'VARSITY

Toronto, Oct. 21.—University of Toronto defeated the Pennsylvania state soccer team here yesterday 3-1, in an intercollegiate soccer match played under American rules.

Edmonton Grads to Meet Chicago Girls In Titular Series

Chicago, Oct. 21.—One of the mid-west's best basketball teams among girl players, the Taylor Trunks, is on its way to Edmonton seeking the world's championship held by the Commercial Graduates.

Two games will be played at Edmonton next week, and two more here later in the Winter to decide the title.

CRYSTAL GARDEN SCENE OF FIRST MAYORALTY SWIM

The lure of the Crystal Garden pool caught delegates to the Western Canada Development and Unity League yesterday, during a convention luncheon, with irresistible force. Mayor Louis D. Taylor, Vancouver, emerged from the spell with a challenge in his pocket, thrown by Mayor J. C. Pendray, of Victoria. To-night at eight the chief magistrates of the two cities will plunge in at the shot of the pistol to do honor for their respective cities in a fifty yards dash. The challenge calls for the use of the breast-stroke, and prohibits clinching.

Mayor J. A. Gregory, North Battleford, will be the judge, and Ex-Mayor Gale, Vancouver, the referee. Sixty delegates to the conference kill the timekeepers. Mayor Wells Gray, New Westminster, is the stakeholder, and the New Westminster Hospital funds the beneficiary in any event.

Side-bets on the race are a dime and a packet of salt, the loser to eat the salt.

Expert's Dope Was Shot to Pieces in Last World Series

Yanks Hit Curve-ball Pitchers While Pennock, a Southpaw, Proved Star Against Pirates

Pittsburgh Did Not Run Wild on Bases Because They Seldom Got on Them

By BILLY EVANS

The so-called expert dope was badly exploded in the world series between the Yankees and the Pirate.

Some of the pre-series predictions by those famaliliar with the strength of the National League champions were that—

Pittsburgh's staff of curve-ball artists will stop the New York sluggers, who are easy picking for that style of pitching.

No southpaw will have a chance to beat the Pirates, for they are deadly poison to that kind of pitching.

Pittsburgh will run wild on the Yankees' catching staff, for the Pirates are the best base-running club in the National League.

Manager Bush intends for his pitchers' to really pitch to Ruth and Gehrig and is positive, byt properly working on them, the two sluggers of the Yankees will be silenced.

Now let us see what actually happened to this alleged wise stuff that was handed out prior to the opening of the series.

YANKEES WERE HITTING

In my sizeup of the two clubs, I expressed the opinion that the outcome of the series largely depended upon the mood of the Yankees. That is, if the Pirates found them in the midst of one of their batting orgies, no Pirate pitcher would stop them.

It so happened the Pirates found the Yanks in such a mood and not one of the four starting pitchers, the regulars of the Pittsburgh staff—Kremer, Aldridge, Meadows and Hill—were able to finish.

New York looked over plenty of curve-ball pitching, they missed a lot of the "hooks" served them, but, in the pinch, they hit enough of them to enable the Yanks to win four straight games.

The Pittsburgh twrilers are now familiar with what the pitchers on seven other American League clubs were up against last Summer.

PENNOCK WAS POISON

Perhaps Pittsburgh is poison for the ordinary southpaw, but in the frail Herbert Pennock, the Pirates met an extraordinary left hander.

All Pennock did was retire twenty-two batters in succession and with one man down in the eighth had pitched a perfect ball game. The Pirates made only, three hits and on run off his delivery.

No doubt the Pirates have plenty of speed on the bases, but they seldom had a chance to show it and when they did the conditions of the game didn't favor such play.

True, the Pirate pitchers did pitch to both uth and Gehrig with very few exceptions. However, their curves failed to stop the slugging tactics of the two Yankee stars.

The extra base hits of Babe and Lou just about spoiled the series from a Pittsburgh standpoint. The pre-series bunk was worthless.

PIRATE OUTCLASSED

The Pirates were outclassed in the recent world series. There is no doubt of that. However, the Pirates unquestionably played far below form. Pittsburgh is a much better ball club than it showed in the series.

The Yankees, a truly great ball club when in the proper mood, were at the top of their game. After an ordinary start in the first game, New York always dominated the situation.

All season many of the experts have insisted the remarkable hitting of the Yankees was due to inferior pitching. Yet, in the worl series, the Pirate staff failed to stop the Yanks, while the allied inferior staff of New York had no trouble holding the Pirates in check.

INCREASES HIS LEAD

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Displaying his best form of the match, Otto Reiselt, world's three-cushion billiard champion, last night increased his lead over Gus Copulos, Detroit, to thirty-nine points at the end of the third block of their 300-point challenge contest. The champion won last night's block, sixty to thirty-nine, in fifty-four innings, making the total score: Reiselt, 180; Copulos, 141.

Bobby Jones On Golf

JUDGING DISTANCE DIFFICULT

The two prime requisites of every golf shot are distance and direction, and although reams and reams have been written about hitting the ball on line for the flag, I don't remember ever to have seen any advice on the other equally important feature. Possibly the faculty cannot be developed in one who was not born with it, and perhaps I shall be wasting my time and that of my readers, if any, by attempting a dissertation on the art of judging distance.

The other day I read in The British Golf Illustrated an article on the subject by Harold Hilton, and that so eminent a critic should hesitate to offer advice has made me fearful that I am treading on dangerous ground. Mr. Hilton confines himself to wondering if the gift depends upon good long range vision, and to observing that the professional player is ordinarily a better judge of distance than the amateur. I am not sure that Mr. Hilton has not done about all one can do in this field, and yet I feel that I have had some experience which may be helpful to the average player.

SCORE CARD NO HELP

In the first place, when playing a strange course I never look at a score card to get the length of a hole, for nine times out of ten the carded distance is wrong, and even if it is correct it doesn't mean anything. If you don't know how far you have driven it won't matter much whether the hole is four-twenty or four-eighty, you still must figure on the next shot independently of the first.

I once told a friend that the easiest way to determine the distance to the hole was by considering the size of people around the green when he was playing. I had to admit that in that case he would have to give up that method, but insisted nevertheless that it was effective. The principle is of course quite sound and works really better when there is not a crowd, but only one or two men. The apparent height of the flag will also serve when the full length of it is visible.

PLAYER SHOULD BE OBSERVANT

I played one round at St. Andrews in practice when a trick of this kind was absolutely our only guide. We were playing a late round and toward mid-afternoon a heavy fog had blown in off the North Sea. It was so thick that we were unable to distinguish the flag from distances of more than a hundred and twenty-five or fifty yards, and our only means of determining either distance or direction was by keeping a sharp watch on the match ahead, while the members were holing out. I do not remember what scores we made, so I cannot offer them as proof that the system worked well. You must accept my statement that it did.

Most errors of judgment in the matter of range are occasioned, I think, by a failure to observe and take account of all the ground between the ball and the green. There is nothing more deceptive than a shot to a green slightly elevated and with a hidden swale in front. Invariably the hole appears to be closer than it is by the length of the swale, and no reliable conception of the shot can be obtained without walking forward for an inspection. It is always safest to make sure that you have seen everything.

A hill-top green is another tough proposition, and I have found no way to locate one at the first attempt. The second hole at Wentworth, George Duncan's course, is one of this type. There is no background and no flanking trees or shrubbery to gauge the shot by, and if there can be such a thing in broad daylight as a shot in the dark that is one.

RANGE AT FIRST GLANCE

The average person who has little opportunity to play various courses cannot hope to play with the assurance of a man who spends his entire time on courses he has never seen. Our most popular exhibitionists have acquired the knack of getting the range at the first glance and they have learned to rely on something besides local knowledge. I suppose they have all developed systems of their own. But I am sure that none of them counts the yards; its so much easier to think in terms of the proper club to use. After a lot of constant play of this kind it is just like throwing a stone; you don't think about how far you are going to throw or with what trajectory, you simply take one look and let it go.

Judgment of distance, as I have said, is most likely a gift, and Mr. Hilton calls it such. Possibly these suggestions which I have made will help no one. I do believe, however, that a little more thought given to this phase of every shot will help everyone. It is just as important as a true swing.

ALL-BRAN brought natural relief from chronic constipation

Constipation is almost a universal curse—father of more than forty diseases. Yet there is real assurance in Mr. Ladue's letter:

"After sixteen years of taking pills, it cured me. If the millions of people that suffer from constipation only knew what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN would do, some of the pill-makers would go out of business. Every doctor should recommend it. I tell all that I know so that they can get the joy out of life I am getting since I started on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN 3 months ago."

MR. JULIAN LADUE

EX-NOTARIES TO PRESS PETITION

Deprived of Office, Former Notaries Public Agitate For Reconsideration

A meeting of ex-notaries public yesterday afternoon laid plans for the drawing up of a petition to the Provincial Government asking that legislation be introduced at the next session of the Legislature giving them further opportunity to enroll and thus have their commissions restored. Under the amendment to the act governing the office, many of these ex-notaries public find themselves struck off the list because they failed to make application to the proper authorities to retain their posts. The meeting was held in the offices of H. T. Barnes, Rithet Consolidated Limited, Wharf Street.

Hubert Lethaby, a director of the Society of Notaries Public of British Columbia, and who took the precaution of enrolling according to the requirements of the amendment, was requested to act on behalf of the ex-notaries who will form the petition.

He was requested to communicate with Vancouver Island ex-notaries and get signatures for the petition. He was further asked to communicate with ex-notaries in Vancouver and other mainland centres, who are acting along similar lines.

The amendment to the Notaries Public Act made it necessary for applicants to pass an examination, but merely required of existing officers that they should reconfirm their desire to act by making application. Many of these failed to do so, with the result that they are automatically out of office.

SITE FOR GARAGE BRINGS PROTESTS

Oak Bay Residents Oppose Construction of Garage For Beach Hotel

The application of Capt. W. C. Merston to erect a garage which would serve the Beach Hotel at Oak Bay when completed, has drawn protests from neighboring residents and a petition has been signed opposing the plan. The Oak Bay Council, in session last night, met a delegation protesting the plan and also neard Capt. Merston's plea for the building.

Capt. Merston stated he wished to build a garage to hold about twenty cars within 250 yards of the Beach Hotel. He had no intention of erecting a gas station as the petition stated, he said, and no kinds of repairs would be done. It would be merely a storage garage. It was not possible to build the garage at the rear of his hotel, he explained, but he would need a piece of land with sixty feet frontage and 150 feet deep.

The municipal engineer stated he thought a piece of land 60 feet by 80 feet would be large enough and did not consider that a one-story building as proposed would be an eyesore in the community.

Mr. Merston declared he had a site on the corner of Deal and Margate Streets to which the immediate neighbors had not objected. The council decided to take the matter under further advisement.

INTERCHANGE OF CIVIC IDEAS BEFORE PARLEY

distrust, and each in his field recognizes there is room for all and business for all if this plan is followed.

"That is the spirit of co-operation and goodfellowship I would like to see inculcated into the Western Canada Development and Unity League, for we, too, like the manufacturers and merchants have many problems in common to discuss for the general good of our cities and municipalities here in the West.

"What do we find existing at the present time? There is jealousy, ill-concealed, between certain cities and municipalities. A stranger enters one of our cities. He is told of the disadvantages of some other, neighboring city. Should he visit the rival city he is told of the drawbacks of the one he just left, with the result that he likely decides there is no opportunity in either place and passes on.

"If we, the chosen representatives of our cities and municipalities, would visit each other a little more often, and get better acquainted—not only say a good word for our own city, but spare a good word for our neighbors—that example would be followed by our citizens, and they, as I said before, form almost fifty per cent of the population of the West. A better feeling would result, and this better feeling would lead to direct and beneficial results. For business to-day is built on confidence. Let us do nothing that will in any way destroy that confidence, which is so necessary in the development of this portion of our great Dominion, a Dominion that is destined to be one of the richest gems in the British Empire.

JOINT ADVERTISING

At the present time Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Bellingham and Tacoma have joined hands in jointly advertising this circle as the Evergreen Playground, and that is a sample of international goodwill. Victoria and Vancouver again are joined in advertising our two cities as Winter resorts, in an effort to divert some of the traffic from the South. A kindly word from our leaders advising the spending of a vacation in Canada might have the effect of keeping Canadians at home. Often a vacation abroad means a home abroad, and the loss of a valued Canadian.

"In this connection possibly a joint advertising campaign, pointing out the great riches of Western Canada and its potential possibilities, might do much to attract settlers in our midst. I would like to see a suggestion advanced at our last annual meeting carried out—that a special tour of mayors and reeves be formed on the Coast to take a trip to prairie points, so that we may become better acquainted with each other and each other's problems, and the tour returned in kind. Possibly an exhibition car of manufactured and field products could be made up by Coast cities to show prairie communities what is produced on the Coast; and a similar car made at the prairie end to show us what, besides wheat, is turned out in the great middle western provinces. Mutual education would result.

POOLING EXPERIENCES

"There ar many problems in the consideration of intermunicipal relations, and many of these will yield to closer study and a pooling of experiences. We are beginning to learn the benefit of uniform building codes, similar traffic laws, scientific methods of assessment, and town planning. Much of the routine work of cities and municipalities could and should be standardized and applied in proportion to the size of the community. There are budget problems with municipalities who spend $200,000 a year, and with growing cities with annual expenditures of over $2,000,000 a year, but these problems are not entirely unlike.

"The point I wish to make is that we have much to learn from each other. I would like to see a permanent research council equipped to study finance, transportation, settlement, chemical and scientific advance, and other problems set up by the cities and municipalities in Western Canada, as a starting point in a joint campaign of co-operation in the upbuilding of the West. It is neither fair nor productive of results to cry for legislation on every hand. We must be active about our own business, and let me remind you again that that business concerns approximately half the population of the Canadian West.

"Historically speaking, it is only a short time since cities were armed camps, encompassed by stout walls, and living on the spoilation of each other by armed force. The traders of Tyre and Sidon did business from behind armed walls, with the assistance of armies and even navies owned by themselves. To-day the world has passed into an age where borders are being lowered, the enmities of ignorance swept aside, and progress invited by mutual fellowship and goodwill.

UNIFIED CANADA

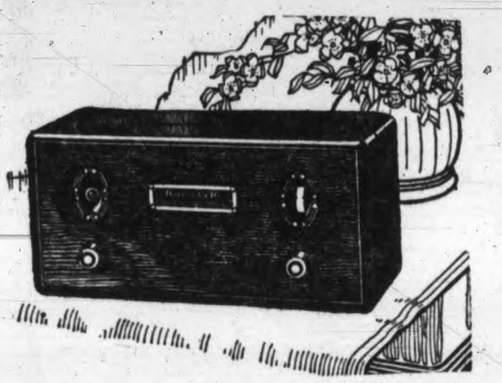

"To build up a unified Canada that may take its proper place in the world's affairs we must unite the West and the East, but we must first get to know ourselves before we can attempt to make headway in the East. At present it is an unbalanced, ill-at-ease West that needs to shake down and get acquainted with itself before it produces from the rich store that Nature has laid aside for it. It is significant that here to-day we have civic heads from the four western provinces—but this is only one day in the year—let us all see what we can do about it for the remaining 364 days. Let us, all see what we can do about it for above all, study what we have, appreciate its worth, and then sing its praises irrespective of what city or what community holds preference," concluded Mayor Pendray.

Tourist Travel Is On the Increase

Halifax, Oct. 21.—Tourist travel in Nova Scotia during the season of 1927 was fifty per cent greater than in the preceding year, according to statistics published by the Provincial Government, the result of records secured at points of entry.

A questionnaire circulated among hotelkeepers, garage proprietors and business men in general furnished figures whereby the authorities estimate the visitors to Nova Scotia during the season spent $11,238,748, and that for the period from June 1 to September 30 the number of visitors entering the province was 170,424, compared with 114,615 last year.

There was an increase of 87.6 per cent in the number of visiting motor cars this year, according to the estimates, which place the total number at 24,573, compared with 13,092 the preceding year.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

TESTIMONY ABOUT HUBBARD

Miss White's testimony followed the course which had been outlined by John F. Dore, chief of the defence counsel, who indicated an attempt would be made to prove Alfred M. Hubbard was actually a co-conspirator with Olmsted while at the same time receiving pay from the Government as an under-cover sleuth.

The stenographer said Hubbard had revealed to her the identity of Frank White, Chicago prohibition agent, who was brought here to unearth secrets of the liquor organization. Hubbard introduced White to other members of the Olmsted organization as "Walker, Olmsted's bookkeeper," but Miss White said Hubbard had tipped her off who Walker really was.

Miss White also testified she had taken dictation from Hubbard in regard to operations of the liquor fleet operated by the organization.

COASTGUARDS HEARD

Roy J. Meeker and Stewart J. Bennett, United States coastguardsmen, were other witnesses.

Meeker, who was boatswain's mate of the first class and commander of a coastguard rum patrol ship, testified Hubbard had attempted to bribe him January 18, 1925, saying he (Hubbard) had "every cent in the world" tied up in the cargo of the Estrelle. Meeker asserted he had refused to let the ship through, but on the next night, an especially dark one, Hubbard attempted to pilot the Estrelle through Deception Pass and was pursued ten miles by a coastguard boat before the rum-runner was sunk by machine gun fire.

Meeker is a defendant.

Bennett, who was second in command under Meeker, corroborated his superior's testimony.

SEARCH MADE FOR AIRMAN DE LESSEPS

the Summer at Gaspe with his two sons. He left on Tuesday afternoon. The weather was unfavorable at the time, with heavy fog, and despite warnings to cancel the trip, the count and his companion took off. The last heard of them, according to the signal service, was two hours later, when the noise of an aeroplane motor was heard over the river by ships which were at anchor, due to the fog. The weather had become worse and a southeast gale had sprung up. As a result the plane may have been driven toward the Gulf.

PIONEER IN CANADA

Count de Lesseps, a son-in-law of the late Sir William Mackenzie of Toronto, took part in the first aeroplane exhibitions in Canada eighteen years ago, and made the first flights ever carried out over Toronto and Montreal. He brought to Canada at that time, a Gnome-engined Bleriot monoplane, in which he flew across the English Channel and back a few weeks after Bleriot had made the first Channel aeroplane crossing in history.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

Wall Street Journal's Review of To-day's Stock Market Over B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Leased Wire to The Victoria Times

New York, Oct. 21.—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says: The bottom almost dropped out of the market in the last half hour after a slow rally which started soon after the opening, and lasted until after mid-day. Heavy selling hit all the active stocks practically without warning at the beginning of the last hour, gained in force and aggressiveness as the session drew to a close and broke the resistance point.

A rally of about four hours was swept out of sight in less than an hour, and at the close the list was acutely weak. At the outset it appeared as if the market had determined to ignore the increase in brokers loans and heavy offerings of Steel, General Motors and other leaders were absorbed without any trouble whatsoever.

It was evident shortly after mid-day that buying was becoming less confident, more scattered. Vigorous advances occurred in special issues like American Tobacco, Christie Brown, International Paper and Underwood Typewriter during the first two hours, but in the afternoon this special strength was entirely forgotten in the presence of the heavy speculative pressure on more active and more representative issues.

An official opinion that the Dodge dividend would be paid on the preferred produced a small rally in that issue, but hardly a convincing one.

The oils displayed activity and strength, led by Phillips, but there was disposition among the traders to question the validity of the strength in these issues at the present time. The closing tone was very unsettled with a high degree of nervousness apparent in speculative quarters. Call money 3½ per cent all day.

Large Holders Sell Out Stocks, B. C. Forbes Says

B. C. Forbes, financial authority of The New York American, says that the stock market acts as if numbers of wealthy investors had been willing to cash in their profits and leave to others the risk of holding stocks. He says it looks as if railway as well as industrial issues were liquidated by some very large holders.

To-day's Mining Markets

With a number of brokers indisposed and not in town, the Victoria stock exchange to-day ran into the quietest session it has experienced for a long time. Stocks closed unchanged.

A couple of blocks of George Copper were picked up at 260 and some Independence was sold at 3⅞. Outside of that there was nothing that was even interesting. Silverado closed at 50 bid.

The Vancouver market to-day was also quiet, the only features being Premier selling up to 229 and Dunwell selling down to 17.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—Wheat—After holding steady with prices little changed during the first half of the day, the wheat market turned heavy at midsession when hedging pressume came into the pit and October prices declined almost 3 cents and December 1¼ under Thursday's close. On this break there was some buying by holders of daily bid while hsorts were covering and taking profits, resulting in slight upturns, but the general tone to the market appeared to be heavy. There was probably a little export business working, but the volume was quite small, and it looks as if the foreign buyer was still waiting for Winnipeg prices to come to a more equitable basis with other markets.

There was no evidence of buying by seaboard interests and New York estimated total sales at Around 600,000 bushels, part Manitobas. There was considerable spreading going on, selling October and Buying December. There is some country speculative buying going into the deferred months, but both December and May established new low marks. The weather over western Canada continued fine yesterday, but the forecast promised a few scattered showers for to-day. Country marketings Thursday were the largest this season being 6,091,163 bushels, and they will probably continue large for the next week or two. By the end of this week threshing of wheat in Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be almost completed, and Alberta should be from fifty to sixty per cent. threshed.

CHICAGO GRAIN

(By the B.C. Bond Corporation Ltd.)

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Liquidation in Winnipeg and here, with hedge selling by the northwest was too much for our market to-day, and prices touched new lows on the crop. Not much rallying power was shown and support consisted largely of short covering. Export business late yesterday and to-day was enough, under normal conditions, to bring about a sharp advance, but it was offset by weakness in Winnipeg, due primarily to the heavy movement in Canada.

Canadian marketings yesterday under the prevailing fine weather reached a total of 6,018,163 bushels, which is about twice the amount brought forward on this day a year ago. Winnipeg reported twenty-five boats at the head of the lakes without a charter. Export business late yesterday and to-day was around a million-and-a-half bushels wheat, including 300,000 barrels of flour and Omaha reported some Winter hard sold out of there for export.

Bond Market

New York, Oct. 21.—With new offerings in the past two weeks aggregating nearly half a billion dollars, trading in the listed bond market to-day was again quiet. Prices showed little change, as continued easy money conditions supplied a firm foundation.

Fractional gains were recorded by a few railroad issues, but buying appeared to be of a perfunctory character. International Great Northern 6s, and Baltimore and Ohio 5s were taken in moderate amounts, and Erie 5s sold a small fraction under their peak price.

Industrials and utilities were given little attention, aside from nominal buying of Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 6s, Loew 6s and Armour 4½s. Italian bonds, which rallied yesterday, were again under pressure, and Mexican 6s lost 2½, selling only 1 point above this year's low.

There was a little buying of the 6 per cent issue of the Republic of Columbia.

United States Government securities were steady.

London, Oct. 21.—Bar silver, 25⅝d per ounce. Money, 3¼ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 4 3-16 to 4¼ per cent.; three months' bills, 4 5-16 per cent.

New York, Oct. 21.—Bar silver, 56¼; Mexican dollars, 42⅝.

New York, Oct. 21.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market to-day, with spot Cuban held at 4.68, duty paid, and no sales reported. The refined sugar market was unchanged at 5.80 to 6.10 for fine granulated, with demand light and of a hand to mouth character.

(By Branson, Brown & Co.)

New York, Oct. 21.—For a time today the market reflected an oversold condition with the market leaders responding to active covering. Under the leadership of the recent favorites the main body of stocks gradually gained momentum but in the last hour were being freely offered and establishing new lows for the day.

The rails were among early favorites in response to some of the October 15 disbursement being employed for investment purposes. Coppers were also in early demand on reports of a more satisfactory condition in export prices. Oils were led by Phillips Petroleum and the buying of this issue was based on reports that the present dividend rate will be declared at next meeting. The early strength in Hudson Motors in recognition of the September quarter earnings helped to rally other motor issues. Tobacco shares were among the market's more prominent issues in reflection of good earning exhibits about to make an appearance.

There is little change in the character of the market. Present money rates are at times a stimulating influence, but the rallies continue to attract liberal selling and, in view of this, it may be advisable to reduce long holdings when the opportunity presents itself.

New York, Oct. 21 (By Branson, Brown)—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau to-day says:

"The brokers' loans statement will come as a distinct shock in many quarters as a result of its exhibit of a further increase of close to $40,000,000, whereas predictions which were current called for a large decrease. The element of disappointment contained in this statement should result in a lower opening to-day, and on this lower opening traders are advised to temporarily cover short commitments, as present indications point to solid support being encountered with in the first hour, and thereafter the most substantial rally which the market has had since it registered its second failure.

"The rally should carry over the week-end, so for the time being remove selling orders and at least wait for better prices pretty much throughout the list.

"I expect call money to renew at 3½ per cent, and for it to decline during the day as low as 3 per cent. Real substantial buying in the best grade of stocks made its appearance yesterday afternoon, and will be in evidence again this morning. If the market opens unchanged or fractionally higher do not cover or buy until pressure is again applied. If the opening is substantially lower cover and buy right after the opening.

"I am still confident that Erie will be one of the first rails to record a new high and consider it a purchase where it stands. Similar conviction is held on American Can, Gold Dust, American Chicle, Radio, Asphalt, B. and O. and C.P.R."

President Gifford hints that American Telegraph and Telephone will not cut a "melon." "It is against the company's policy to earn large profits for distribution as extra dividends," he said at Dallas.

While lacking official news, Wall Street seems convinced that the St. Paul decision will be unfavorable and that no action will be taken on the Chesapeake merger. These rumors have caused some selling of rails and have tended to weaken the industrial list.

Third quarter earning statments of steel companies now being made are generally disappointing and it is assumed that United States Steel in its report to be issued next week will show a recession, although not as sharp as in the case of several independents.

There is some talk that Elihu Root will be engaged by copper interests in hope he may bring about stabilization in that industry.

An increase in the authorized common share capitalization of Beech Nut Packing Company from 375,000 shares of $20 par to 425,000 shares is planned preliminary to an affiliation with the Schulte Retail Stores Corporation and the United Cigar Stores interests, it was announced yesterday by Guy P. Sharp, secretary to the president of Beech Nut.

Automotive Industries says this week: "With the new Ford car practically certain to be in active production in November, the indications are that the auto industry will return to a high production basis in that month, with many companies besides Ford sharing in active demand."

All manner of rumors are in circulation as to the means to be taken to pay off the back dividends on Missouri Pacific preferred. Either stock or part stock and part cash, it is believed, will be the final arrangement.

Those close to Dodge claim that earnings are sufficient to continue dividends unchanged.

Marma Copper Company quarter ended September 30 reports net profits before depreciation and Federal taxes equal to 68c a share, against $1.23 in 1926 quarter.

Gov. Young of California appoints commission to investigate waste of natural gas in State, which he estimates at 100,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Madison Square Garden Corporation and subsidiaries for nine months ended September 30 earned $2.63 a share against $2 in sameperiod of previous year.

Detroit industrial employment last week totaled 195,295, decrease of 599 from previous week, and comparing with 224,808 in corresponding week of 1926.

Hudson Motors earned in nine months net income $16,198,000 vs. $7,983,000 first nine months of 1926.

Dow Jones says the Interstate Commerce Commission has under consideration no early decision which might be interpreted as having a depressing influence on value of railroad securities.

International Harvester declared regular dividend $1.75 on preferred, payable Dec. 1, record Nov. 5.

Nickel Plate nine months net equal after preferred dividends to $10.04 on common vs. $15.12 same period 1926.

General Electric earnings for first nine months this year $4.61 per share on the common.

MONTREAL

Montreal, Que., Oct. 21.—The remarkable come-back in the pulp and paper stocks occasioned no little surprise. Locally Abiti opened at 131, eased off to 129½. The BLUE CAR MYSTERY

By NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN

With head slightly twisted to one side Dective Barlow considered her in silence which grew protracted. Harriet Whitney had become accustomed to the admiration of men since her debut into New York society two years before, but never during her belleship had she been so acutely conscious of such intensity of regard. Her heart almost beating to suffocation, she faced the two men and strove to restrain her inclination to hysterics.

The black gown that Harriet was wearing intensified her pallor; shock and grief had left their imprint in dark circles under the reddened eyelids, but for all that, Barlow realized the girl's exceptional beauty. He shifted his gaze to Ned Terry and a sardonic smile creased his lips at sight of the young man's rapt expression.

"Come!" he said, and the single word, snapped out, cut through the tense atmosphere like a whiplash. Pausing for a brief word with the policeman, who had taken up his station at the front door, Barlow crossed the hall and drew back the portieres before the wide library door. "Come," he repeated.

Hardly conscious of what she did, Harriet placed her hand timidly on Terry's arm and together they entered the library. Heavy brocaded curtains completely covered the long French window alcoves, giving entrance into the old-fashioned gardens, and Barlow, before following the others across the threshold, switched on the electric lights which were located in the hall on the wall at the side of the library door.

The library, which ran the depth of the house and was broad in proportion, might also have borne the name of museum. Many valuable art treasures, as well as rare "first editions" were crowded within the four walls, but only one object centred the attention of Harriet and her two companions.

Before the fireplace lay stretched the body of a man clothed in velvet smoking jacket and dark trousers. Over the jacket and once white shirt ran an ominous red stain. The body twisted into grostesque shape, with outflung hand, gave mute testimony to a spasmodic contortion in dying moments, but the face, handsome in life, had gained an added dignity in the majesty of death.

With a cry which even startled the detective, Harriot flung herself on her knees beside her uncle and bowed her head in silent grief. Suddenly before either man could guess her intention, she bent forward and pressed her lips to his forehead. As she straightened up, a long string of ivory beads worn about her neck, caught in the upright handle of a dagger protruding from Whitney's chest.

"Let me help you." As Terry's hand came in contract with hers Harriet glanced up, startled by the icy touch.

"One moment—" and Barlow, in turn, bent over. "Don't either of you handle the dagger—it is to be tested for fingerprints."

Harriet sank down upon the floor and gazed fearfully up at the detective.

"You will find mine on the dagger," she half whispered. "I was obliged to touch it to disentangle my beads without breaking the string."

CHAPTER III

The moments seemed endless to Harriet Whitney while she waited for some comment from Dective Barlow. Would the little man never cease regarding her with that peculiar gleam crept down her spine and she shuddered.

"The room is cold, shall I get you a shawl?" asked Terry solicitously. "Come, Barlow," turning impetuously toward the dective. "Don't detain Miss Whitney here any longer; she has borne enough."

Barlow put out his hand and assisted Harriet to her feet. His face was devoid of expression.

"The coroner has given me permission to have the body removed to a bedroom," he said, "and the, eh, autopsy will be held later this afternoon. By all means go to your bedroom, Miss Whitney—we shall not need—Hello, what's the disturbance?" he broke off to ask as the sound of raised voices reached them from the hallway. Suddenly the portieres were dragged aside and the policeman's face, red from a heated altercation, appeared in the opening.

"There's a lidy 'ere, sir—" he got no further. With an agility surprising in her size, a woman, rather stout and above medium height, slipped under the policeman's extended arm and ran inside the room. With one sweeping glance about her, she rushed forward. Catching a full view of Commodore Whitney, the blood forsook her cheeks and she reeled backward. But for Terry's supporting arm she would have fallen. Suddenly her head fell forward and hot tears forced themselves through the fingers held tightly clasped over her eyes.

Detective Barlow, an interested spectator of the scene, removed his gaze in time to read Harriet Whitney's telltale face. If ever a girl's countenance expressed repugnance hers did. She caught his eyes and her expression changed swiftly. Barlow stroked his chin and his eyes sparkled with quickened interest.

"Mrs. Ruggles," Harriet's words rang out clearly. "Suppose you retire to your room until you are able to control your emotion."

Mary Ruggles's hands fell to her side and she straightened up as if shot. Brushing aside the tears which still dimmed her eyes, she inspected her companions, letting her gaze finally rest on Harriet, then it returned to Barlow.

"I was told there was a detective from Police Headquarters her," she said, and her voice sounded remarkably collected for one overcome with grief. "Are you—"

"Detective Paul Barlow, at your service, madam—" Barlow's bow was ironically low, or so Terry considered it, but Mrs. Ruggles was apparently favorably impressed, for her expression altered from its tragic lines as the detective continued, his voice sympathetically low, "You are—?"

"Mrs. Mary Ruggles," broke in Harriet swiftly. "My uncle's housekeeper—"

"And his fiancee," completed Mrs. Ruggles softly, and pressed her wet handkerchief to her eyes.

The pause lengthened. No comment came from Harriet, standing rigid in her corner by the doorway, and Terry, waiting somewhat behind Mrs Ruggles, was equally silent. Barlow's hand strayed to a small adjustable reading lamp and with a quick pressure he bent it upward so that the rays were directly focused on Mrs. Ruggles. If she was conscious of the added illumination she gave no sign. Lowering the handkerchief, she raised her head, and looked straight at the detective.

"Commodore Whitney was very lovable, very dear," she exclaimed tremulously. "Have you arrested the murderer?"

Barlow shook his head. "We were only notified a little over two hours ago—" she gave him time to say no more.

"And I," with dramatic fervor, "I never learned of it until my arrival just now." She wrung her hands. "Oh, God! Why did I leave hi myestarday—this would never have happened."

"Explain yourself, madam, Mrs. Ruggles sank down in the nearest chair and, resting her elbow on its arm, bowed her head in her hand. Barlow took in, without appearing to do so, her stylishly fitted gown, showing under her thrown-back coat, the becoming hat that she was wearing, and her handsome features. She was well preserved woman of fifty, or so he judged, and there was a certain capability about her which commanded attention. When she looked up her eyes were again swimming in tears.

"I— this has been a great shock," she began confusedly. "Harriet—" with a glance at the young girl which brought the hot blood to her white cheeks, "is right. I must go to my room before I lose control of myself."

"Just a moment, Mrs. Ruggles—" Barlow held up a protesting hand. "Is there any clue you can give us to the identity of the perpetrator of this dastardly crime?"

Before answering Mrs. Ruggles turned and scanned the library. Original Corot paintings hung on the walls, with especially arranged lights, priceless vases rested in odd nooks and corners, cabinets containing wonderful jade, bookshelves filled with first editions which would have driven a collector wild with envy, genuine antique furniture—all contributed to make a remarkabe setting for the prone figure on the floor.

"Dastardly, is right," commented Mrs. Ruggles, with deep feeling in her voice and manner. "Who would have done so wicked a deed!" Her eyes sought Harriet. "You were here last night."

Harriet drew a step closer. "I left my uncle in this room about ten o'clock," she stated, addressing the detective. "He said that he had some letters to write but that I was not to wait up for him, and so—" her voice shook. Tears were very near the surface. "I kissed him good night and then retired."

"Were you awakened by any noise in the night?" questioned Barlow swiftly.

She shook her head. "My sleep was dreamless—" she paused. "Mose awoke me this morning—"

"Where was Anna, the waitress?" broke in Mrs. Ruggles.

Harriet shook her head. "I have no idea," she answered. "I have not seen her to-day—"

"And the cook?" Mrs. Ruggles had taken the situation out of the detective's hands apparently and she shot one question after another in rapid succession.

"I persume she is her," replied Harriet. A hint of disdain had crept into her softly modulated tones. "You, however, are in charge of the servants."

Mrs. Ruggles's black eyes lit with smoldering resentment. "You dared to disapprove your uncle's matrimonial arrangements," she almost screamed the words. "I guess as much—dental is useless," as Harriet opened her lips to speak. She swung toward Terry, of whose presence she had taken no notice until that moment. "Did not Commodore Whitney send for you to draw up a prenuptial agreement?"

Terry bowed. "Yes," and content with the single monosyllable, he again lapsed into silence.

Mrs. Ruggles rose from her chair. She was an imposing figure in her fur coat and, in spite of her unusal height, extremely graceful.

"Surely, Mr. Barlow," she began in impassioned tones, "you cannot be so brutal as to leave Commodore Whitney lying on the floor—" .....

"His body will be removed at once to his bedroom," replied Barlow. "The laws, where sudden or violent death occur, have to be compiled with."

"I realize that," she broke in, through trembling lips. "You will not let him lie here alone—unguarded."

THIS YOUNG WOMAN KNEW HER ROBBER

Chicago, Oct. 21 — Looking over robber suspects at a police "show-up," Mrs. Harry M. Gerhard, a mild-mannered young woman, suddenly stepped forward, delivering a left uppercut, followed it with a right cross to the jaw and dropped one of the prisoners for a count of more than ten.

"That's the man," she cried. "He is the one who choked me, tore rings from my fingers and tried to shoot my six-year-old son yesterday."

Thus was Tisano identified.

Another part of an evening gown that seems to stay up without visible means of support is the price.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1927

If the stars be rightly read this is a day fairly fortunate in planetary direction. Astrologers find only one strongly adverse aspect.

While the sway is promising where money for business projects is concerned, there is a sign read as menacing to any sort of new activity.

Under this direction of the stars it is wiser to plan than to start execution in important enterprises.

Subtle forces that encourage conservative development along practical lines of work are discerned by the seers.

All the planetary influences appear to promise a stabilizing and crystallizing of American business affairs, making for tremendous mobilization of industrial concerns.

To-day is held to be lucky to seek the society of ambitious and prosperous. It is a time for girls to make good impressions on millionaires who are marriageable.

Under this direction of the stars the imaginative faculties may be quickened and for this reason the sway is favorable to writers.

Two eclipses of December are held to presage much illness and many war clouds for the world with the beginning of 1928.

Revolutionary organizations probably will gain strength under the planetary government next year, it is forecast.

The seers preach for the United States the sort of patriotism which prevents disloyalty to established democratic institutions.

Seismic shocks for France and England as well as this country are foretold for the coming months.

Venus is to be in a sign that presages for England and other European nations grave danger of war in the new year.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of success and plenty of money in the coming year. They probably will travel.

Children born on this day will rise rapidly in any vocation they choose, astrologers predict.

Victoria Purple Star Lodge—The regular monthly meeting of Victoria Purple Star Lodge 104, L.O.B.A., was held on Wednesday evening in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, Worthy Mistress Mrs. D. Hunter presiding. There was a good attendance and much business was transacted. Splendid reports were received from the various committees, including the rummage sale, which was a financial success, also of the showers that have been held for the coming bazaar, for which the members are working hard. Another shower will be held at the home of Worthy Mistress Mrs. Hunter, 1471 Edgeware Road, on Tuesday next at 8 o'clock. Members and their friends are asked to take car to Hillside terminus.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Squiggy's Adventure

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily sitting on a green mossy log near the hollow tree in which the bees stored their honey, looked at the Queen Bee as she laughed at what the Drone told her.

"I hope nothing has happened to Squiggy," said the rabbit gentleman.

"Nothing but what can be mended," answered the Queen Bee. "He is too stuck up, that's what's the matter."

"Do you mean the little Squiggle Bug is proud?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Is it that your majesty?"

"Oh, no I don't mean stuck up that way," answered the Queen Bee. "But

The rabbit gentleman bid farewell to the bees.

Squiggy fell into a pot of honey, just as I told the Drone to bring him out to you, and he is all sweet and sticky. You'll have to wait until some of my Worker Bees clean the little bug off."

"Oh, if it's nothing worse than that I shall not worry," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "As soon as Squiggy is cleaned of honey I will take him back to his brother Squoggy, who lost him."

You remember about Squiggy being lost, I am sure. The two little red-spotted Squiggle Bugs were playing tag on a log when, all of a sudden, Squiggy said he smelled honey and off he flew in't he air to follow a bee who was carrying the honey home to the hive in the hollow tree. Squoggy did not know where Squiggy had gone and when Uncle Wiggily hopped along, the sad little bug asked the rabbit to help hunt for the lost Squiggy.

Uncle Wiggily hopped on through the woods until he came to the bee tree. There he heard the Queen Bee say something about stinging some one who had gone into the hive without being invited.

It was Squiggy who had done this, flying into the hollow tree after the bee who was carrying home a last load of honey from some late flowers. The honey gathering season was over. Soon the bees would stay snug and warm in their hive, living on the sweet stuff they had stored up during the long, Summer days.

And then, just as the Queen Bee was told by the Drone, poor little Squiggy in his eagerness to eat some honey, fell into a pot of the sweet stuff inside the hive tree.

"But my Worker Bees will soon have him cleaned up so you can take him back to his brother, Uncle Wiggily," buzzed the Queen.

While the rabbit gentleman was waiting, the Queen told some of her workers to bring out some honey for the rabbit gentleman, and he was glad to get it, for he had a sweet tooth—two of them if the truth is to be told.

Then, pretty soon, down out of the hollow bee tree, came crawling Squiggy. He looked quite clean and stylish. On one leg he carried a tiny pail made from a small acorn.

"Well, Squiggy, you had quite an adventure, didn't you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, kindly.

"I guess I did!" buzzed the small bug. "I thought I'd never get out of that honey. But here it is!" and he held out the acorn pail.

"Whatis it?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"I told my workers to take the honey they scraped off Squiggy's wings and legs, and but it in a pail for him to take home to his mother," said the Queen Bee.

"And that's just what we did, your majesty," said a Drone. "I never saw so much honey on a little bug in all my life!" and he tried not to laugh, for it was not considered polite to laugh in the presence of the Queen Bee.

"Well, Squiggy is all right, now," buzzed the Queen Bee, "and you had better see that he gets home safely, Uncle Wiggily, before he has any more adventures."

"I will," promised Mr. Longears. "His brother Squoggy must be quite worried, looking for him."

Then Uncle Wiggily put Squiggy and the tiny acorn pail of honey in a side pocket and the rabbit gentleman, bidding farewell to the Queen and her bees, hopped back to the log in a crack of which the Squiggle Bug family lived. Squoggy was buzzing around very much excited because he couldn't find his brother, and Mr. and Mrs. Squiggle were thinking of sending for the Police Dog when the rabbit gentleman hopped along with the lost one.

"Oh, my dear Squiggy! What an adventure you had!" buzzed the mother when she heard about it. "But I'm glad you brought home some honey," she added. So everything ended happily, and if the garden rake doesn't get an ache in one of its iron teeth and have to get the corkscrew to pull it out, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's pumpkin light.

A London school, started to teach languages, now finds most of its pupils among American tourists who are anxious to acquire an English accent within a short time.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KNICK

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The sea began to get real rough and Clowny cried, "I've had enough. If we stay in, we'll all get wet. The waves are rolling high. Some water's splashed upon me now. I'll have to dry it out somehow. Perhaps, by sitting in the sun, we all soon will be dry."

So, in they ran, upon the sand. "Say, someone kindly lend a hand," cried Coppy as he sorted out the shells that he had found. "I'm going to build a garden wall; a little house, and that's not all. Please bring a lot more shells to me and pile them on the ground."

The happy bunch ran here and there, and picked up seashells very rare. Wee Coppy started building, and was really very good. "Oh, my, I have a hunch," said he, "that sounds just fine. I wish that we might build a house of seashells. Do you think perhaps we could?"

This plan, of course, amused them all. Said one, "Why, shells are much too small. We'd never get enough together on the beach, I fear. And, even so, 'twould still be tough, for though of shells we had enough, to build a house that's big enough 'twould take us 'bout a year."

Then Scouty jumped and yelled, "Hurray! I have a plan. We'll gather clay, and lots of sticks to make our house. This can be done with ease, There's naught but sand down here, I guess, and sand would make an awful mess. But, surely we can find some clay away back in the trees."

"That's simply great," the whole bunch cried. "We'll build the house; then live inside." And, to the trees they scampered, making work seem just like play. They found a lot of clay nearby, and brought it out and piled it high. It wasn't long until their little house was on its way.

Sidney

Sidney, Oct. 21.—On Wednesday evening members and friends of the Sidney Social Club motored into Victoria to the home of Mrs. J. Crossley, where a very pleasant evening was spent, military 500 being played at seven tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. T. Lidgate, Mrs. Gowan, Mr. R. W. McKay and Mr. W. G. Robinson. After a few minutes' interval the guests were seated at a large, beautifully decorated table in the spacious dining-room, where a gorgeous supper was served, after which the president, Mr. MacAuley, called upon Father Scheelan, who, in a few appropriate words, explained to Mrs. Crossley that the visit was in memory of her untiring efforts for the success of the club during her many years in Sidney, and, as a token of appreciation, presented her with a lovely twenty-one-piece tea set and table cloth, to which she thanked the members for their thoughtfulness and expressed her desire to assist the club in its future welfare. After a toast to the health of Mrs. Crossley and the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," dancing was indulged in for a short time before the happy crowd departed for home.

Langford

Langford, Oct. 21.—A very pleasant evening was spent on Wednesday by members of the Women's Institute and their friends at a progressive five hundred party held in the Institute Hall on Dunford Road. The highest scorer was Miss L. Savory for the ladies and H. A. Hincks obtained the gentlemen's prize. These were both donated by Mrs. J. M. Ritchie, being a pretty cup and saucer and a pack of cards.

Miss Nellie Willson had cleverly painted two marrows for the booby prizes, "Little Mutt" going to Mrs. Eldridge, playing gentleman, while Mrs. Wilma Pike won a French doll marrow.

The room and supper table were strikingly decorated with salvia chrysanthemums and fragrant mignonette. Horace Simpson added to the pleasure of the evening with pianoforte solos, and refreshments were served, the hostesses being Mrs. Ernest Le Quesne and Mrs. Harold Austin Hincks.

The final arrangements for the masquerade ball on Friday evening, October 28, in the Colwood Hall were made at a joint meeting of ladies and gentlemen of the executive committee who met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mackie, the Gowans, Goldstream Road. The grand tombola prize will be four-tube Marconi radio set, while four prizes will be given to ladies and four to gentlemen for best fancy dress, best character dress, best comic costume and best Hallowe'en costume. Chandler's orchestra will provide the music. Refreshments will be served. All dancers must be masked if in costume or informal dress. The dancing floor of the hall will be enlarged twenty feet by removing the stage, as a large crowd is expected. Tickets are now on sale and selling rapidly.

Miserable with nausea, heartburn and palpitation! Driven nearly wild by headaches and nervousness! Never feeling well for fifteen years! And then—to find relief and ease, comfort and health in Tanlac. Tanlac did this for me.

Before taking Tanlac, I never felt right. Many a night I heard the clock strike every hour and was so weak and miserable that some days I had to stop work. But now I haven't a complaint in the world; hearty eating, steady nerves and sound sleep have made me as strong as an ox. I wouldn't swap Tanlac for all other medicines put together."

THOMAS ALVA EDISON WILL SPEAK TO-NIGHT

Aged Dean of Electrical Inventors to Speak at Programme in His Honor

For the first time Thomas A. Edison, dean of electrical inventors, will speak over the radio. Mr. Edison will be the feature speaker during the anniversary programme of the electric lamp, which will be broadcast over the nation-wide network of the National Broadcasting Company from New York this evening from 7 to 7.40 o'clock. From 7.40 to 8 o'clock members of the Pacific Coast network will have individual programmes featuring a local official of the General Electric. This programme is sponsored by the General Electric Company.

The programme is being broadcast to commemorate the forty-eight anniversary of the electric lamp, and is in honor of Thomas A. Edison and others, living, or dead, who have in any way contributed to the advancement of the electric art. E. W. Rice, Jr., honorary chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric, will interview Mr. Edison before the microphone, asking him questions of universal interest. No word has been given as to the nature of the questions, but they will probably have to do with his own explanation of his genius and an account of his rise to celebrity.

Pacific Coast stations of the network broadcasting this unusual and unique programme are KFI, KPO, KGO, KGW, KHQ, KOMO and KFOA. The programme will start at 7 p.m., Pacific time, and at 7.15 p.m. Edison will make his first appearance before the microphone.
